Both will save your life.

Only ONE has a vote in Congress.

Washington, DC's nearly 600,000 residents include firefighters, nurses, teachers and small business owners.

They pay federal taxes like all Americans, but are denied representation in Congress.

That's taxation without representation – and it's still wrong.

Larry Chapman
Lives in Washington, DC

Jayme Heflin
Lives in Maryland

WWW.DCVOTE.ORG

DC Vote

Sponsored by the Government of the District of Columbia.