The Cruiser That Fired the First Gun at Manila Leaves Bermuda on Thursday.

VAN WYCK'S TELEGRAM TO LONG.

Mayor Van Wyck sent the following telegram to John D. Long, Secretary of the Navy:

A committee of citizens appointed by the Mayor for the purpose of making suitable arrangements for the reception by the city of New York of the United States cruiser Raleigh met and organized this day. It would be greatly appreciated by the city if you would authorize the commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard to take such action in connection with the reception as may seem proper to him.

BERMUDA, April 10.—The cruiser Raleigh, which fired the first shot in the battle of Manila, will leave here early on Thursday morning, arriving in New York at 5 o'clock on SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Among many trophies on board the fighter is a gun captured from the Spanish cruiser Castilla, which Captain Coghlan will present to the citizens of Raleigh, N. C. The gun is a Nordenfeldt rapid-fire, which was taken from the crippled Spanish man-of-war for the purpose of honoring the city for which the gallant cruiser was named. Captain Coghlan has advised the Navy Department that such a souvenir would be presented, and, not having received any reply, has taken it for granted that the department will offer no objection.

The following is a correct list of officers now on the Raleigh:

JOSEPH B. COGHLAN, captain.
T. S. PHELPS, Jr., Lieutenant-Commander, United States Navy, executive officer.
W. WINDER, Lieutenant, United States Navy, navigator.
HUGH RODMAN, Lieutenant, United States Navy.
CASEY B. MORGAN, Lieutenant, United States Navy.
H. A. PURSON, ensign, United States Navy.
F. L. CHADWICK, ensign, United States Navy.
PROVOST BABIN, ensign, United States Navy.
G. H. MARSTELLARS, surgeon, United States Navy.
J. MILLER MOORE, assistant surgeon, United States Navy.
S. L. Heap, paymaster, United States navy.
P. C. TREADWELL, Lieutenant, United States Marine Corps.
JAMES ENTWISTLE, chief engineer, United States Navy.
W. L. WINCHELL, past assistant engineer.
A. S. HARSTEAD, past assistant engineer.
J. R. BRADY, assistant engineer.
H. N. EMOORS, assistant engineer.
P. L. NEEL, assistant engineer.
W. S. STEIGER, assistant engineer.
E. J. NORCOTT, acting boatswain.
G. DEP. JOHNSTONE, gunner.
T. F. KILEY, carpenter.
H. D. LAZELLE, pay clerk.

COMMITTEES ORGANIZE AND GET DOWN TO WORK.

The Raleigh is to have a rousing welcome when she sails into port on Saturday afternoon, and the Journal's suggestion of a reception to the officers and crew of the famous fighter is to be carried out to the letter.

This took official shape yesterday when the Mayor's committee of seven hundred met in the Aldermanic chamber of the City Hall. A large majority of this committee, which includes most of the prominent men of New York, assembled at noon, when Mayor Van Wyck called the committee to order. His mention of the Raleigh and Admiral Dewey were applauded, and when he said: "Dewey would have marched to hell itself if he had been commanded to do so," the chamber rang with cheers.

On a motion of Robert B. Roosevelt, the Mayor was elected chairman, and although he asked Mr. Roosevelt not to throw bouquets, the speaker managed to say that the Mayor came from good fighting Dutch stock, and was the proper man to take charge of the welcome of the fighters. On motion of Alderman Glick, A. M. Downes was elected secretary.

General Daniel E. Sickles moved that the Mayor be authorized to appoint an executive committee of one hundred and fifty, and the motion was adopted, the Mayor reading the names.

In declaring an adjournment immediately afterward the Mayor announced that John H. Starin had placed at the disposal of the committee one of the Glen Island fleet of boats.

Executive Committee Organizes.

The Executive Committee met immediately afterward in the chamber of the Municipal Council. It was called to order by President Holahan, of the Board of Public Improvements, who moved that General Daniel Butterfield be elected chairman. He was unanimously elected, and escorted to the chair by Benjamin F. Tracy and Perry Belmont. On motion of Corporation Counsel Whalen, Warren W. Foster was chosen secretary.

On General Horatio C. King's motion Chairman Butterfield was authorized to appoint the usual sub-committees.

General Sickles announced that Rear-Admiral Osborn, who had charge of the exercises which opened the Harlem Ship Canal, was present. The admiral spoke of the necessity for a river patrol, and suggested that the tugboat men be invited to take part in the water parade.

Major Frey suggested that as Commander Fremont and Captain Starter had maritime jurisdiction in the harbor, they be appointed on the sub-committees.

President York, of the Police Board, said the police had jurisdiction over the water front, and had always had charge of the police arrangements at naval demonstrations here. The police were ready to patrol the river, or they would cheerfully co-operate with the Federal officials.

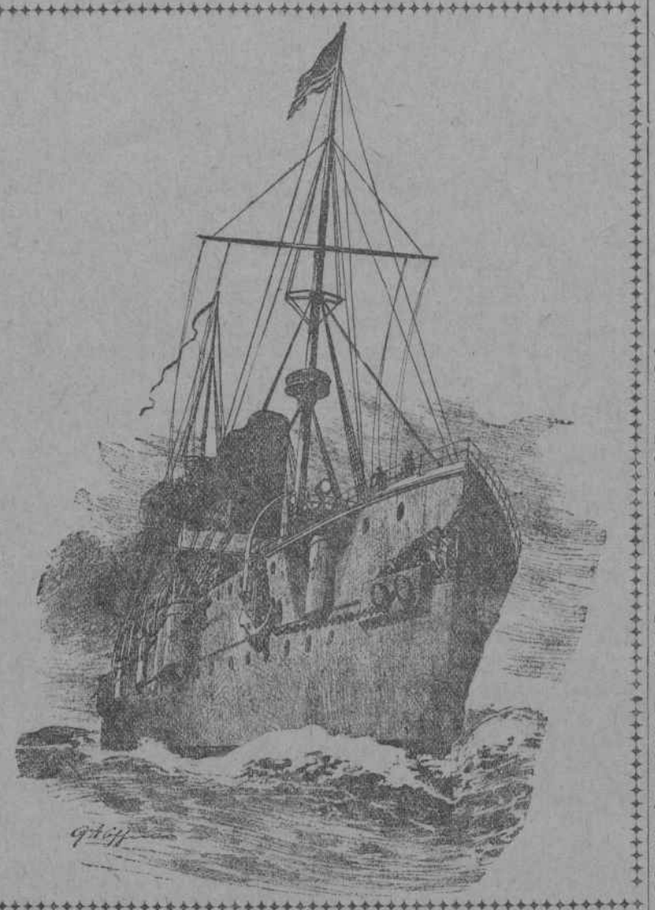
Sub-Committees Meet To-day

After a recess of an hour the sub-committees were announced, and the Executive Committee adjourned until noon to-morrow, when they meet again at the City Hall. The sub-committees will meet at noon today in the chamber of the Municipal Council.

At to-day's meeting of the Board of Aldermen and the Municipal Council the day upon which the celebration in honor of the Raleigh shall take place will probably be made a holiday. This is due to many letters asking that the city departments be closed in order that the employes may have a share in the celebration.

Raleigh to Be Repaired at Portsmouth, N. H.

Washington, April 10.—The Navy Department has decided that the Raleigh shall be repaired at the navy yard, Portsmouth, N. H. The work will take nearly two years.



U. S. S. Raleigh. Due Here on Saturday.

CHAIRMAN GUGGENHEIMER TELLS OF THE ARRANGEMENTS.

Editor of the Journal:

It is the intention of the Committee on Plan and Scope to unite if possible the national, State and municipal authorities, and make this welcome to the returning cruiser one to be remembered by the people of this great city. The people must, however, help us, and therefore we request all good citizens to decorate their homes. Your correspondent, now in Bermuda, who also acts for the people of New York in arranging with Captain Coghlan the exact time the Raleigh will arrive at this port, has informed us that we may expect her on Saturday. That will suit the people exactly, and as soon as we hear from the Navy Department we shall be able to fix the time when the people may assemble and greet the heroes.

The President and his Cabinet have been invited to attend and so have the Governor and his staff, the Lieutenant-Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the Assembly. This committee will meet again to-morrow, when we hope to have nearly everything in shape.

I suppose the committee will meet the Raleigh down the bay upon her arrival and accompany her up the Hudson to Grant's Tomb and back to the anchorage grounds.

If all the crew cannot attend one banquet, it will be very easy to entertain half on one night and the remainder on the night following.

RANDOLPH GUGGENHEIMER,
Chairman of the Committee on Plan and Scope.

33 MEN LIABLE TO BE HANGED.

Illinois Soldiers Set Fire to a Georgia Jail, Where They Were Prisoners.

A MAD RUSH TO ESCAPE.

Provost Guard Caught Napping, but Less Than Half the Desperate Men Get Away.

Augusta, Ga., April 10.—General Young ordered last week that any soldier found on Augusta streets without a pass should be arrested. Saturday the troops were paid. In the evening the police and provost guards locked up thirty-three men from the Second Illinois and a number from other regiments, many of whom had been drinking. The prisoners were placed in cells at Police Headquarters, a brick building in the centre of the city.

The soldiers, angry at their arrest, determined to break jail. In some way an iron bar was secured, with which the cell locks were wrenched off. Then boards were torn from the wall and fires were started in the cellar to attract the guards, who, it was hoped, would open the outside door, when the prisoners could make a rush and escape.

The smoke became distressing, and Dennis Cushman, a giant, of Company B, applied his immense strength to the iron bar, which had been inserted behind the lock of the outside door, and the door gave way.

Electric light wires were then cut and the boys made a rush for the wall. Fifteen escaped.

Lieutenant J. F. Crook ordered the provost guard to the rear of the jail when the lights went out. Several of the Illinois men on the wall were told to come down or be shot. They came down. Then it was discovered that the basement of the jail was on fire, and for the next fifteen minutes the guard was busy in throwing buckets of water on the burning woodwork and getting the other prisoners out of the basement. The fire was extinguished without damage.

The law of Georgia imposes the penalty of death for setting fire to any building containing human beings.

SHERIFF LOCKED LADUE CO.'S SAFE.

An Attachment for $10,000 Served in a Suit for Klondike Stock.

BUSINESS NOT DISTURBED.

The Company's Statement Shows Excess of $400,000 Assets Over Liabilities.

An attachment for $10,000 was served on the Joseph Ladue Gold Mining and Development Company, of Yukon, at No. 2 Nassau street, yesterday. It was in favor of Morton C. Nichols, of the Colonial Trust Company, at Ann street and Broadway. The grounds for the attachment stated in the complaint filed in the Sheriff's office allege that Mr. Nichols had advanced $10,000 for stock in Ladue's company, which had not been delivered.

At the offices of the company in the Empire building business proceeded as usual, though the Sheriff closed the safe and took charge of the keys to the money drawers.

Mr. Ladue was in Schuyler Falls yesterday. The Company's officers applied to the Deposit & Fidelity Company, of Maryland for a bond by which the attachment could be vacated, and expects to be freed from its disability to-day. E. F. Botsford, the secretary and treasurer of the company, said:

"The attachment grew out of a personal difficulty between Mr. Nichols and Mr. Ladue. We knew nothing of it, and the serving of the attachment was a surprise to us.

"Mr. Nichols had bought of Mr. Ladue, 5,000 shares of stock in the company, agreeing to pay $50,000. He paid $10,000 down and was to pay the balance later. This he never did, and consequently the certificate of stock was never given to him. The transaction was a strictly personal one between Mr. Nichols and Mr. Ladue, who were friends, and the stock that was to be transferred to Mr. Nichols was charged to Mr. Ladue."

The Joseph Ladue Gold Mining and Development Company of Yukon was incorporated in 1897, with a capital stock of $5,000,000. Its founder was Joseph Ladue, known as the "Original King of the Klondike." He went to the Klondike in 1896, founded the city of Dawson, returned in 1897 and interested a number of prominent business men in his project.

Among the incorporators of the company were Smith M. Weed and T. F. Conway, of Plattsburg, N. Y.; J. R. Riley, ex-United States Consul at Ottawa, Ont., and several prominent New York bankers. The financial statement of the company, recently issued, gives as the total earnings of the company to January 1, $240,508.98, and the net profits $161,409.17. On the basis of these earnings a 6 per cent dividend was declared. It is said that the assets of the company amount to about $500,000, with liabilities of about $100,000.

PROBING OF TRUSTS BEGINS NEXT MONTH.

Industrial Commission Announces Its Intentions and Asks for Definite Information.

Washington, April 10.—The Industrial Commission will begin its investigation of trusts about the middle of May and continue through June. This statement of the purposes of the Commission was made public:

"The Commission wishes to secure from every source trustworthy information regarding the methods of organizing and conducting such enterprises, and the effects of such organizations upon their rivals in trade, upon employes and upon society at large."
