In February of 2004, (xerox) copies of a Courier-Standard Enterprise article and photographs documenting the 1981 flood that washed away the historic aqueduct were sent to the HABS office. Also enclosed were what appear to be copies of the 1981 images (some in print form, some as thumbnails on a contact sheet, a dozen with negatives) but no copyright waiver. Therefore, these materials are included in the field notes for reference purposes.
