

THE RIGHT HON. ARTHUR JAMES BALFOUR AND FIELD MARSHAL SIR DOUGLAS HAIG.

Respectively British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs and Commander in Chief of the British Forces in France, in the Grounds of the Trianon Palace, Versailles, During a Recess of the Recent Interallied Supreme War Council.
(French Pictorial Service.)

MARSHAL FERDINAND FOCH, COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE ALLIED FORCES IN EUROPE, AND GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING, THE AMERICAN COMMANDER IN CHIEF AT THE AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE.
(French Pictorial Service.)

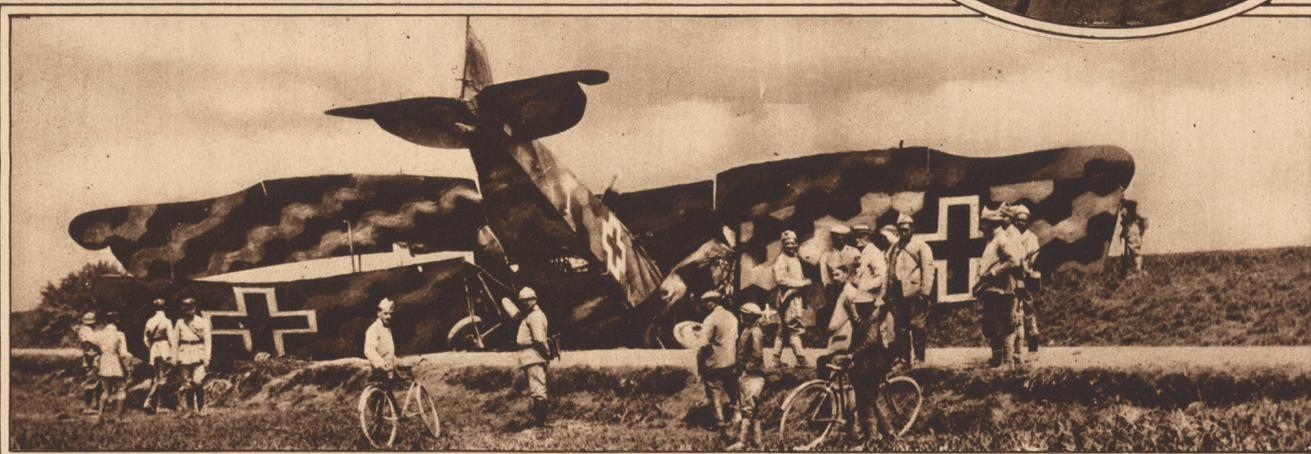

FRENCH GUN CREW, ONE OF WHOM HAS REFUSED TO RETIRE DESPITE HIS WOUNDS, AND THEIR "75" IN A WOOD NORTH OF THE MARNE.
(French Pictorial Service.)

AN AMERICAN SOLDIER ON THE MARNE FRONT USING A GERMAN HELMET AS A WASH BOWL IN MAKING HIS MORNING TOILET.
(French Pictorial Service.)

ARABIANS, NOW FIGHTING WITH THE ALLIES, SHIPPING CAMELS BY WAY OF THE RED SEA FOR THE USE OF THE ARABIAN ARMY.
(French Pictorial Service.)

GERMAN AIRPLANE OF THE HALBERSTADT TYPE, ELABORATELY AND ODDLY CAMOUFLAGED, BROUGHT DOWN BY A FRENCH "ARCHIE" OR "75" ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUN ON THE OISE FRONT.
(© Underwood & Underwood.)

GENERAL GOURAUD, COMMANDER OF THE ALLIED FORCES ON THE RIGHT WING OF THE MARNE SALIENT, REVIEWING AND ADDRESSING HIS CAVALRY ENGAGED IN PURSUING THE GERMANS NORTHWARD TOWARD THE AISNE.
(French Pictorial Service.)