[Proposed class or classes of copyrighted work(s) to be exempted]= everything, non-commercial use, educational use, fair-use, personal use [Brief summary of the argument(s) in support of the exemption proposed above]= The DMCA gives too much power to copyright holders, allowing them to accuse you and have your internet access cut off, without a trial or proof. You can also be held liable for even discussing defeating copy protection, or for defeating copy protection that would otherwise be legal. In other industries this isn't tolerated, you cannot be arrested for owning a set of lockpicks, for breaking into your own car, or telling someone how a lock works in an academic text.
