Summary:

Disc name: Family Guy (Complete First Season)

A friend of mine was in Japan for a week or so on vacation and saw a DVD of the complete first season of "The Family Guy". He picked it up for me and shipped it home as soon as he possibly could. Upon opening the DVD and throwing it in the player, I discovered that it wouldn't play due to the fact that it was the wrong region code! And I couldn't exactly send it back. So, my choices are to buy a dual-region DVD player or a second DVD player just for that disc. I love "The Family Guy", but not enough to buy a new player for it. It was a perfectly legal gift, but unless I wanted to spend a lot of money on a second player, I'd have to resort to technically illegal means to watch it.
