Summary:

Disc name: Coupling (BBC)

I was over visiting family in England over the holidays, and I caught a few episodes of a BBC show called "Coupling." I went out and purchased a DVD of the first series of "Coupling" to watch when I got home. But my player would not play the disc.

This became a rude awakening regarding DVD region encoding.

The DVD I had purchased was encoded for Region 2. I live in the United States, so I am in Region 1. It's pretty frustrating that the formats would be incompatible.
