

Name: Nick van Terheyden

Class of works: I am writing in support of Class #3 (Unskippable DVD Advertising): Audiovisual works released on DVD that contain access control measures that interfere with the ability to control private performance, including the ability to skip promotional materials.

Summary:

Forced viewing of promotional material on other products from the same producer that my children are forced to watch any time they decide to view the DVD. This is outrageous - children are highly influenced by advertising and here we are unable to bypass advertising from DVD producers. We have ALWAYS fast forwarded through the adverts on VHS tapes now we are unable to do so on DVD's

Disc name: Lilo and Stitch
