

[Proposed class or classes of copyrighted work(s) to be exempted]= A single backup copy should be allowed of all works purchased by an individual.

[Brief summary of the argument(s) in support of the exemption proposed above]= Technically, individuals purchase licenses to watch or listen to content (tv programs, movies, music, etc.), not the physical media on which said content appears. These physical media are often damaged in their normal use, such as being stolen from a car or scratched by a child. Therefore, an individual who has purchased a license to a work should have the ability to make a backup copy of said work for their own personal use.
