

Keep "Jail-Breaking", or rather "liberating" devices legal. There is a wealth of knowledge to be learned during and after this process takes place, and it allows for mere tweaks and personalizations to be possible. This option to customize ones own device, whether it be an Android or an iOS device should be kept legal, not demonized and done away with. Don't frustrate the already tense environment we are already in regarding the SOPA/PIPA as well as ACTA (which is still in the midst and very well alive)

Let us be a truly free country, without quotes. Living in a "free society" with "Big Brother" type of tactics will throw everything we are and we supposedly stand for in the trash.
