

I have worked in IT for 8 years and have found jailbreaking smartphones incredibly useful in my day to day work. Installing custom ROMs can extend the life of unsupported devices, saving me and my company time and money. It also allows to secure our devices when the devices are not secure enough.