

I think that jailbreaking should remain legal because it helps to enrich user experience and adds functionality to iOS devices such as the iPhone. As a student I would like to feel as if my iPhone is unique and cool. Jailbreaking helps to change the theme of my iPhone and adds many more functions to the iPhone. I feel that this is good as there are inadequate functions in the iPhone in comparison to some of the other smartphones in the industry. The iPhone is a powerful device and only can be used to its full potential if it is jailbroken.
