

I think that the major part of innovaton comes form having our devices be used for our own concepts. Whatever device that may be, there should be no limitation on how we modify it.