

We deserve the freedom to do what we wish with our devices. We paid for them, and we ought to be able to innovate and ensure they do what we want.