

Taking away our right to jailbreak and mod our devices is a step backwards. People come up with truly inovative things with the freedom. If you are spending that much money on something, you should have a freedom to do what you want with it.