

February 6, 2012

To whom it may concern,

This is my response to the proposed class of works number 5. Jailbreaking should remain legal because it allows for smart phone security research and development. Jailbreaking should be expanded to tablets as well, personal computing has moved into the "mobile stage" and deserves the same security and customization that the PC has.

Sincerely,

Timothy J. Waikel