

I am the owner of a 2000 Ford Ranger EV. This is an orphaned vehicle that Ford no longer manufactures or supports. Auto manufacturers should be required to open source information that owners need to repair the vehicles we have paid for. To allow them to claim that manufacturers or owners would be harmed by release of this information is false and a misuse of copyright law.

Edward Brown