

SPECIAL FLASHFAX SERVICE

COPYRIGHT COMPULSORY LICENSE INFORMATION VIA FAX

The Publications Information System in the Licensing Division of the Copyright Office can provide copyright compulsory license publications via FAX. Simply by using the handset on any facsimile machine, the requesting party may request and receive a FAX copy from an index of compulsory licensing publications. Some of the publications available are:

- How To Make Compulsory License Royalty Payments Via Electronic Transfer of Funds
- Compulsory License For Making And Distributing Phonorecords
- Copyright Regulations for Cable Television Systems, Satellite Carriers, Digital Audio Recording Devices and Media
- How to File Statements of Account

The telephone number for this new service is 202-707-7068 or 202-707-6746. Remember—you must use the handset on your FAX machine to access this service.

If additional information is needed concerning copyright licensing publications via FAX, you may contact a Licensing Specialist at:

Licensing Division, LM-458
Copyright Office
Library of Congress
Washington, D. C. 20557-6400

Telephone: 202-707-8150
FAX: 202-707-0905