

Ornamental Iron Balcony,
St. John's Rectory, Troy, N.Y.

HABS No. NY-358

HABS
NY,
42-TROY,
4-

PHOTOGRAPHS
WRITTEN HISTORICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE DATA
DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

Historic American Buildings Survey
Andrew L. Delehanty, District Officer
123 North Pearl St., Albany, N.Y.

Ornamental Iron Balcony Of
St. John's Rectory,
Troy, N.Y.

HABS
N.Y.
42-TROY,
4-

OWNER: Congregation of St. John's Rectory.

DATE OF ERECTION: Built 1863-Demolished November 1936.

BUILDER: Unknown

ARCHITECT: Unknown

NUMBER OF STORIES: Three stories and basement.

MATERIAL OF CONSTRUCTION: Brick external walls, stone trim,
wood floor and roof construction,
iron balconies.

ADDITIONAL DATA: The building was torn down during November 1937, but the balcony was preserved and sold by the church congregation to a Mr.
Batchler, member of the firm of the Ludlum
Steel Company, Watervliet, N.Y., who is building a very beautiful home for his daughter and will use the balcony on this structure.

Abraham K. Mosley, Archt.

3/12/37 (M)

ADDENDUM TO:
ST. JOHN'S RECTORY (BALCONY)
First & Liberty Streets
Troy
Rensselaer County
New York

HABS NY-358
HABS NY,42-TROY,4-

FIELD RECORDS

HISTORIC AMERICAN BUILDINGS SURVEY
National Park Service
U.S. Department of the Interior
1849 C Street NW
Washington, DC 20240-0001