

Andrew Jackson to Henry Lee, December 17, 1827, from Correspondence of Andrew Jackson. Edited by John Spencer Bassett.

TO MAJOR HENRY LEE.1

1 The letter is addressed to "Major Henry Lee, Present". Lee was then in Nashville, with an announced plan of preparing a campaign life of Jackson.

Hermitage, December 17, 1827.

D'r Sir, Herewith by Mr Williams I send you the manuscript Book you requested the other day—it was then at Nashville—you will find the letter of Mr Monroe aluded to, where the leaf is turned down. I recollected the Subject, but thought it was by Armstrong then Sec. of War—but find it was Mr. M. acting as such, the other being absent.

Before we set out for N Orleans I will thank you to return all the manuscrip Books, so that I may leave them in security untill we return. If the Nashville papers have come up by the mail today, please send them by Mr Williams respectfully yr mo. obdt. servt.
