Second edition. To Honorable men. The attention of honorable men is requested to the annexed note. To Dabney S. Carr. You have without slightest provocation, repeatedly assailed my character ... I John S. Tyson, do unhesitatingly pronounce you, Dabney S. Carr, liar and a coward; - a disgrace to your party and a stigma to the town. John S. Tyson July 8 1828.

SECOND EDITION. TO Honorable Men.

The attention of honorable men is requested to the annexed note.

TO DABNEY S. CARR.

You have without the slightest provocation, repeatedly assailed my character. Perfectly satisfied in my own mind that you would not have dared this, were I not bound and pledged by the laws of the land, and the obligations of honor to the State, and to two securities, in the manner you know me to be; and having no other alternative, I, John S. Tyson, do unhesitatingly pronounce you, Dabney S. Carr, A POLITICAL ASSASSIN, AN UNPRINCIPLED VILLAIN, A LIAR and A COWARD: —-a disgrace to your party, and a stigma to the town.

John S. Tyson.

July 3, 1828.

• DABNEY S. CARR, instead of acting as a gentleman, and a man of honor, after the publication of the above—chose to reply by a handbill!! full of falsehood. He is, therefore, a degraded man, and unworthy of further notice. J. S. T.

July 8, 1828.