

SEEHAN ACCUSED OF DISLOYALTY.

Erie County's Leader Charged with Opposing Bryan's Indorsement.

Norman E. Mack Declares "Blue-Eyed Billy" Wants McKinley Elected.

But, He Adds, the Erie Democracy Will Accept the Chicago Ticket and Platform.

NO NEED OF HASTE, SAYS SHEEHAN.

Bryan, He Explains, May Refuse the Populist Nomination and on His Own Platform Win Democrats Back to the Fold.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Norman E. Mack, who has been active in a demand for a Democratic indorsement of the Chicago ticket, is emphatic in denouncing the interference of William F. Sheehan with the affairs of this county. Mr. Sheehan has been here two days in conference with

"If the Democracy of Erie County is betrayed by Mr. Sheehan," said Mr. Mack, "the rank and file of the Democracy should ratify and indorse the Democratic national candidates. There is no use minding matters. The delegates to the next State Convention must be right out, flatfooted and unequivocally for Bryan and Sewall and the Democratic national platform. We have tried to run the party here by long distance telephone for three years, and have failed. If it keeps on much longer there will not be a Democrat holding office in Erie County. Either Mr. Sheehan or the Erie County Democrats must quit."

Before leaving for New York to-night Mr. Sheehan said: "It is peculiarly the privilege of the National Committee of this State to ascertain by all legitimate means the state of public opinion and the condition of the party organization in every part of the State. Mr. Mack desires to ratify the Chicago ticket in the month of August. Older and wiser heads are of the opinion that November elections are not carried in August and that a wise and safe course to follow is to have a great Democratic outpouring after the State Conventions have nominated the candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor."

SENATOR JONES'S DAY IN NEW YORK.

National Chairman Here to Plan for the Notification Meeting.

Declares He Was Misrepresented in the Interview About the Populists.

Outlook Encouraging, Far Beyond His Early and Most sanguine Expectations.

HILL AND GORMAN NOT IN TOWN.

Tammany Men Call on the Senator, Whose Early Departure Disappoints Many Who Called Later in the Day.

Senator James K. Jones, of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, spent yesterday in this city making arrangements for the notification meeting to be held at Madison Square Garden.

The Senator reached the city early, having left Washington the night before. He was met at the railroad station by the national treasurer, William P. St. John, and was driven to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where Room No. 89 had been reserved for him.

Senator Jones is a big man. Dressed in gray, he looked much larger. He wore the same cut of clothes—frock coat, trousers slightly bagged, low-cut vest—that he wears nearly all the time. His beard, built somewhat on the order of Dr. Parkhurst's, is gray, and his head nearly bald. He greets everybody cordially, and when he finds it time to get away, begs politely to be excused.

Polite as he is by nature, he is bluff in an emergency, frank and outspoken at all times. His nose is straight, large and clearly cut, while his blue eyes have a kindly look that invites people to tell him their troubles while he listens.

When the Senator reached the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday he refused at first to see newspaper men, sending down word that he was too busy and would see them later.

The afternoon newspaper men explained to him that they could not wait, and, unlike many others, the Senator did not refuse to be considered. He sent down word that he would see them.

He told them that he had nothing to say, but denied the interviews attributed to him and printed in New York. He then begged to be excused, as his day was short and he hoped to get away at 4 o'clock.

The conference between Mr. St. John and Senator Jones, lasted nearly all the forenoon. It was on a wide range of political subjects.

Hill and Gorman Not in Town. It was thought that Senators Hill and Gorman would be in town yesterday and night, but on Senator Jones, but Mr. Gorman did not arrive and Mr. Hill stayed at Normandie-by-the-Sea, N. J.

After his conference with Mr. St. John, Senator Jones was called on by ex-District Attorney James W. Ridgway, of Brooklyn; ex-State Treasurer Danforth, James Martin and National Sergeant-at-Arms James Oliver.

John C. Sheehan, the leader of Tammany Hall, came in while the others were present, and the Tiger's manager and the Senator had a long talk about the meeting on the 11th, and also in regard to the ratification.

What Sheehan Had to Say. Mr. Sheehan informed Mr. Jones that Tammany was earnestly for the ticket and would give it a majority in the city notwithstanding the desertions of some men who in the past have been the recipients of countless favors from the party. Mr. Sheehan also told the chairman that many Republicans would vote for Bryan in preference to McKinley. This last information has been received by Mr. Sheehan from his lieutenants throughout the city.

Mr. Martin's friends say that although he opposed the indorsement resolution at last Friday's meeting he is still loyal to the organization and will do the same in this campaign as he has in former years.

Chairman Jones was also assured that a solid delegation would go to the State convention demanding the indorsement of the nominees.

The Senator took a few minutes off for luncheon, and at 4 o'clock resumed his conference with Mr. St. John.

When asked what plans he had in mind for the campaign, Senator Jones said: "It is a little early to state. I am waiting until the meeting of the National Committee next Tuesday. After that we will know more."

"But will not some of the Western free silver Republicans be placed upon the Campaign Committee?"

"That cannot be answered until after the meeting of the committee."

"Has an executive or campaign committee been decided upon?"

"There will, of course, be a campaign committee."

"Will Senator Gorman be on or at the head of the committee?"

"More Timid About Talking. I cannot state just what will be done. In fact," said the Senator, "I do not care to talk. I said something recently in a private, confidential talk with some newspaper men, which was distorted and which has caused a great deal of unpleasantness. I am here to arrange for the notification meeting and the meeting of the National Committee."

"Will the Western Republicans—Senators Teller, Dubois, Pettigrew, Cannon and men of that character who have left the Republican party—have recognition from the Democratic National Committee?"

"The Populists have a National Committee, and I suppose that the Western Republicans will have some organization. I do not know."

"But will not some of the Western free silver Republicans be placed upon the Campaign Committee?"

"That is another question that I cannot answer. We will have a Democratic campaign committee. I will not name the executive committee. Mr. Bryan has been notified of his nomination."

Senator Jones was asked who would make the notification speech, and he replied: "It is customary for the chairman of the notification committee to make it. The chairman of the committee is Senator White, of California. I have read in the papers, I have no knowledge of my own on the point that Senator White has delegated Governor William J. Stone, of Missouri, to make the speech. The other speakers have not been arranged for, but will be announced in due time."

Hopeful of the Result. When asked in regard to the prospects of success in the campaign, the Senator answered that he was confident that the silver people have a National Committee, and while his manner before had been reserved on account of his recent unfortunate experience where his confidence had been violated, he was willing to talk about the growing sentiment in favor of silver throughout the country.

"The success so far," said he, "has been beyond our expectations. From every State in the union reports of the most encouraging character are received, showing that the people understand the issues of the campaign and are in sympathy with the Democratic party. The indications all point one way—to the election of the Democratic candidates."

When asked in regard to the complicated situation of two Vice-Presidential candidates, Mr. Jones simply said: "Missouri, to the Democratic party nominated its ticket."

He was asked about Mr. Watson's remarks, published in his own paper, and said: "Watson's statement is based upon two remarks attributed to me which did not occur, and in which I was misrepresented."

At 3:30 Senator Jones sent down an order for a cab, and a few minutes later was driven to the depot.

Many Disappointed. It was not known that the chairman would spend only one day in the city, and many prominent Democrats who called later in the day and in the evening were surprised to learn that he had gone. The Senator's time was so limited that he did not even visit the silver headquarters across the street.

COCKRAN FOR CHAIRMAN. New York Orator May Preside at the Gold Democrats' Convention, Which Will Probably Meet in Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—The indications now are, on the eve of the Indianapolis convention, that when the fall is issued it will be for a national convention in Chicago some time in September, and that Bourke Cockran will be the man who, as temporary presiding officer, will open the proceedings of what will undoubtedly be a historic gathering.

There is a general feeling in favor of naming the ex-Tammany orator for temporary presiding officer, and giving that famous speaker an opportunity to throw the "thorny crown and golden cross" upon the altar of Bryan into the shade. The only shadow of an objection to Mr. Cockran is that he has expressed himself as not being in favor of naming a third ticket, although he enthusiastically approved of holding a convention and adopting a gold platform.

SILVER'S BIG GAINS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Many Farmers and Workingmen Rallying to the Support of Bryan.

Wanamaker Urges Mark Hanna to Come and Talk Over the Situation.

Democrats Claim That They Will Carry Eight Congressional Districts This Year.

MINERS FOR THE WHITE METAL.

Growth of the Free Coinage Sentiment Among Them Has Greatly Surprised the Leaders of the Democratic Party.

Philadelphia, Aug. 5.—The State of Pennsylvania is not to be won by McKinley without a struggle. According to the reports received by the Democratic Society of Pennsylvania, the farmers and workingmen are moving in masses, and as they never have before, toward the Democratic nominees.

Chauncey F. Black, president of the society, and James Kerr, ex-Clerk of the House of Representatives, now claim that the Democrats will have at least eight of the Congressional districts in Pennsylvania after the next election, instead of the two now represented by Democrats in the Fifty-fourth Congress.

The districts claimed are the Third, Eighth, Thirteenth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth, Twenty-fourth and the Scranton District. Both assert that the growth of the free silver sentiment is something unprecedented, and that all the mining section of the State will give a support to the Democratic ticket hitherto unheard of in the history of the politics of Pennsylvania.

It became known to-day that ex-Postmaster-General Wanamaker has sent an urgent request to National Chairman Mark Hanna to visit this city on his way West. The request was made in the name of the Business Men's Campaign Committee and the reason given was that Hanna is needed here to talk over the situation. Hanna has promised to stop here, probably on Thursday afternoon.

DEMOCRATIC GAIN IN THE EIGHTH. In the Eighth District, Joseph J. Hart, Democrat, was elected two years ago by a majority of 106. The Democrats claim that they will carry the same district now by a majority variously estimated at from 2,000 to 4,000. This, they say, is due entirely to the agitation of the subject of free coinage.

In the Thirteenth District the silver sentiment has become so strong that there is now some talk of putting a free silver Republican in the field against Representative Brumm, who will try for re-election on a silver platform. William J. Bryan is expected to be present at the ninth general assembly of the Democratic society, which is to be held at Erie.

CLEVELAND IS THE MAN. Secretary Morton Says the President Would Be the Proper Candidate for Gold Democrats.

Nebraska City, Neb., Aug. 5.—Secretary J. Sterling Morton was asked yesterday whether he would accept the nomination for President in case it was decided to put another ticket in the field. He said: "I have never in all my life been a candidate for any office. I am not a candidate now. My own opinion is that President Cleveland would poll more votes than any man who could be named."

"I do not believe, with Bourke Cockran, that the proper thing for the honest Democracy to do is to adopt a platform without naming a ticket. If a thing is worth fighting for it is worth fighting for properly and with method. The best way to prevent the catastrophe that confronts us is to organize. The way to get Democratic votes is to have a democratic candidate."

LABOR AGAINST PAYNE YET. Leaders Deny That They Are at Peace with the National Committee.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 5.—Milwaukee labor leaders deny the report from Chicago that they wrote a letter to the Chicago labor unions advising them to drop the charges against Republican National Committee member Henry C. Payne. A committee of the Milwaukee trades unions went to Chicago last week to present the matter to the Grievance Committee of the Chicago Labor Council, and were told that a letter had been received from Milwaukee advising that the matter be dropped.

On returning to Milwaukee the committee inquired in vain for the writer of the letter, and have come to the conclusion that it was a hoax. The Federated Trades Council will probably take some action next Thursday evening to deny the letter.

CHEERING LINES FOR MCKINLEY. His Friends Assure Him That Silver Sentiment is on the Wane.

Canton, O., Aug. 5.—Major McKinley spent to-day in reading letters from many of his admirers, who assure him that he will be the next President. They cheer him with the expression of the belief that the free silver sentiment has reached its highest development, and that the reaction is beginning to set in.

Major and Mrs. McKinley gave a musicale the evening, at which about sixty of their friends were present.

Colonel Fellows Will Orate for Gold. New Haven, Conn., Aug. 5.—Colonel John R. Fellows, of New York, is to be the principal speaker at the gold Democratic convention here on August 12. The other speaker will be ex-Congressman Sperry, of Hartford.

Gold Democrats Failed to Meet. Concord, N. H., Aug. 5.—The meeting of the gold standard Democrats, which it was proposed to hold here to-day, failed to materialize.

members of the Democratic organization endeavoring to withhold the indorsement by it of Bryan and Sewall, which had been decided upon by the county Democracy.

Asked what Mr. Sheehan's purpose was in being here, Mr. Mack said: "Mr. Sheehan's purpose is to make an effort to control the organization for New York City uses, pure and simple, and not in the interests of the Democracy of this State or of this county."

"Mr. Sheehan's personal friends here," continued Mr. Mack, "claim that he is going to prevent the official ratification of Bryan and Sewall by the General Committee. But will make but little difference with the Democracy of this county, which will in the same indorse the action of the Democracy of this country."

ATTACK ON THE PLATFORM. You believe Mr. Sheehan is against local ticket?"

told several of the committeemen "was the reply, 'that the State election would be against the indorsement of the Democratic National Convention."

The game of Mr. Sheehan with the other gentlemen who are at the organization at this time, early William C. Whitney, Perry W. Hinkley, is to give Bryan and a sort of half indorsement in the on and repudiate the platform, and mean absolute death to every-thing that is Democratic in this State, the Governor, Congressmen, members of the Assembly and all other candidates."

"I think there's any question about what Mr. Mack said. 'He is serving men who make money out of many, only in New York. There are a big men in this State who want to run party affairs, and yet elect a scheme would help them what may become of all Democrats of the rank and file the ticket, and they are at the end of the Democracy of this State?'"

AT SHEEHAN IS DOING. Sheehan using the Democracy of county to further this end?"

"Absolutely," said Mr. Mack. "Is he seeking to betray the Democracy Erie County?"

"Yes," was the answer, "and there is no way in which he can be disloyal and untrue to the national ticket and loyal and true to any other part of the Democracy."

"What about the policy of the rank and file?"
