

PINGREE WINS HIS LONG FIGHT.

Nominated for Governor of Michigan, Despite Machine Opposition.

With the Workingmen's Support He Has Routed the Old Republican Leaders.

The "Potato Patch" Mayor Sends to the Journal His Declaration of Principles.

"GIVE PEOPLE WHAT THEY WANT."

As a Boy Detroit's Executive Worked in a Shoe Factory Cutting Out Heels at $4 a Week—Now He is a Millionaire.

PINGREE'S PLATFORM. Protection for the laborer. Increased valuation of vacant land for taxation. No monopolies and public franchises. Give the people what they want. Railroad property to be taxed as other property is taxed. Equal rights to rich and poor. Economy in public offices.

Hazen S. Pingree, Mayor of Detroit.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 6.—Accompanying the above declaration of principles in seriptic, the following dispatch was today sent by Mayor Pingree to the New York Journal immediately after his nomination

Mayor Hazen S. Pingree, of Detroit.

He has been nominated for Governor by the Michigan Republicans in spite of the opposition of the machine. His great popularity is among the working classes, whose champion he has been. Mayor Pingree is the originator of the "potato patch" system for aiding the poor.

for Governor at the Republican State Convention:

To W. R. Hearst, New York Journal: It is my platform that the people should have what they want. There should be no unfair advantages in politics any more than there are in the financial world. The man who will be elected this year is the one who is willing to trust the common people."

When Chairman Giddings called the convention to order at 9:30 o'clock this morning for its second day's session, the St. Clair delegation question was first taken up and the convention by a viva voce vote, sustained its action of last night, seating both contesting delegations, giving each delegate half a vote. At 10:45 o'clock a roll call was ordered for the nomination of Governor.

The first ballot (official) resulted: Pingree, 330; Bliss, 286; O'Donnell, 83; Wheeler, 47; Aitken, 26; Conant, 22; necessary to a choice, 417. The second ballot also resulted in no choice. The vote was as follows: Pingree, 558; Bliss, 283; O'Donnell, 78; Aitken, 49; Wheeler, 34; Conant, 17.

On the Fourth Ballot.

The third ballot was Pingree, 405; Bliss, 308; O'Donnell, 89; Aitken, 17; Wheeler, 14; Conant, 5. Pingree was nominated on the fourth ballot, the totals of which were as follows: Pingree, 440; Bliss, 290; O'Donnell, 75; Aitken, 17; Conant, 2. Pingree's nomination was then made unanimous. A great demonstration followed the announcement of the nomination of Mayor Pingree, which was led by his adherents.

The nomination of Mayor Pingree is a direct blow at the McMillan machine, which has held control of Republican politics in Michigan for nearly ten years, and probably means its overthrow. McMillan has bitterly opposed Pingree's political advancement since the latter first made his appearance in local politics in Detroit, and the two have been bitter political enemies. Pingree, however, by his anti-corporation policy has gained a great personal following among the farmers and poorer classes of people throughout the State.

Worked in a Shoe Factory.

Pingree, now a millionaire, is the son of a poor farmer of Denmark, Me., and started life in Detroit by cutting out shoe heels at $4 a week. Twice before he tried for the Governorship, and twice was defeated in a convention. This year he began a most vigorous campaign, which McMillan failed to check. Not a Detroit paper would print the Mayor's utterances, so he established an official town bulletin board, which was a great sign posted to the front wall of the City Hall. Each morning he dictated to his stenographer the result of the work of the day before or answered the editorials which were written against him. After he became Mayor the first thing Pingree did was to establish the "potato patches"—the original system by which vacant land inside the corporate limits was turned over to the city for the use of poor families for gardens. It was a success, and the first year of its adoption the industries poor put 100,000 bushels of potatoes into their cellars with no cost to the labor. This was in addition to summer vegetables and melons of beans, turnips, onions and rutabagas. He carried the city the next Spring by 10,000 majority—the city which had always been good for 5,000 Democratic majority before Pingree began his work in 1888. The adoption of a three-cent fare on a Detroit surface line was another feature of his administration.

MYSTERY OF A MARRIAGE.

Lillian Green, an Actress, First Admits Then Denies She is Wedded to "Charlie."

Whether Lillian Green is married or not, there is enough mystery in the whole affair to form the basis for a novel. It was freely reported in theatrical circles last night that the agile soubrette had been married Tuesday night to a man known only as "Charlie," and who was said to be a member of Squadron A and the New York Yacht Club. Back of the marriage were rumors of a serious quarrel between "Charlie" and "Jack," who were rivals for the fair actress's affections.

Miss Green lives with her mother, who conducts a large boarding house at No. 217 West Forty-third street. Both women were seen there last night. Miss Green at first admitted that she was married, but after several consultations with a shadowy form in a rear room and promptings by her mother, denied the soft impeachment. Her mother affirmed and denied the report by turns, and finally both refused to say another word.

Later in the evening Mrs. Green gave what she called a truthful statement of the case. "My daughter is not married," she said, "but is engaged, and the wedding is to take place the latter part of this month. I can tell you nothing about her affianced husband, as I am pledged to secrecy in the matter. She has been engaged just a week, and the wedding was set for August 16, but I persuaded Lillian to wait a little longer and take a trip to the country first. In about ten days I will tell all the facts of the case."

REED'S TWO YEARS MORE IN CONGRESS.

Maine Statesman Secures a Renomination by Acclamation.

Makes His Second Speech This Campaign on the Issues of the Day.

He Says That Real Bimetallism Has Never Had a Perfect Trial Anywhere.

THE STATUS OF GOLD AND SILVER.

If We Must Have Joint Coinage of the Two Metals It Must Be Done by International Agreement or It Must Be Let Alone.

Portland, Me., Aug. 6.—Thomas B. Reed, Speaker of the present Congress, was renominated by acclamation to-day. The resolutions had been read, Mr. Reed entered the hall amid great enthusiasm. He received a great ovation. Mr. Reed then addressed the convention. He said in part: "We, in Maine, have got to make up our minds on the subject of the currency question sooner than in any other State in the Union, and our verdict will be of great importance to the country. "Do not understand that I purpose to make the currency question perfectly clear to you; I don't know enough to do it. In the first place, we had not, prior to 1873, had a single dollar of gold or silver currency in this country, and we did not have any for five years afterward. And there is another fact, a pretty important one, and that is that in 1873 the silver which would have made a United States standard silver dollar of 4.232 grains, was worth 3 cents on a dollar more than a gold dollar was. "This was setting up a standard that was three cents on a dollar lower than the one which you say ought to have been retained. And the only question is which system is the best for this country, which will produce the best results?"

BIMETALLISM IS DIFFERENT. "At the very outset I want you to understand precisely what is proposed. You will hear a great deal of talk about bimetallism. The system which is proposed by the Chicago Convention is not bimetallism. Bimetallism is an entirely different affair. The object of bimetallism is to give to the currency greater stability by spreading it over two surfaces. "Now, there is some reason and sense in the idea that the whole world, if they took silver and gold at a proper ratio, could preserve a greater level of prices, a firmer and more stable level of prices. This no single country could do. "Real bimetallism has never yet had a perfect trial. I mean international bimetallism, and that is the kind we must have. Why, we had some experience in this country, but men's memories are short. In 1792 our earlier fathers determined to marry the two metals together. What is the first thing they did? It was to ascertain the market value of the two metals as they stood side by side, and they found that they were 15 to 1—not 16 to 1, but 15 to 1. RESULTS THAT FOLLOWED. "What was the result? Why, if a man had ten dollars, one of which was worth 100 cents and the other was worth 102 cents, he kept the 102-cent dollar longer and passed of the other one quicker. Two cents on a dollar, even in those days, was not worth making much fuss about it, but the money changers were on the alert, and whenever a silver dollar came into the bank or reached the money changer he put it out to keep the one metal alone side the other. It was always either gold or silver, never both. Now, if the United States could not lift the silver side, and what was worth only 2 cents less than the gold dollar, can she now lift a 60-cent dollar to the height of a hundred cents? And if she can, why should we want to do it?"

"AT HOME" TO GOLD MEN. Democratic Honest Money League of America Opens Headquarters Here.

The Democratic Honest Money League of America opened headquarters last night at No. 93 West Twenty-fourth street. President John Byrne announced that the League would hold a monster mass meeting at which Wm. Burke Cochrane would be the principal speaker.

Secretary John J. Rooney was deputized to represent the League at the conference on Friday afternoon when James Sullivan today. Mr. Rooney left on the midnight train, with instructions to oppose any attempt to nominate a third ticket, as the members of the League believe that such action by the gold Democrats will help Bryan and defeat McKinley.

The Committee on Organization made its final report and suggested the appointment of an Executive Committee and a Finance Committee. The names of John A. McCall and George W. Conner were also added to the list of vice-presidents.

The League will establish branches in every Assembly district, including Brooklyn, and in every school district throughout the State.

Lowerer Heirs Win Their Suit. Referee Daniel S. Rollins yesterday, in the Supreme Court, did his report in the suit of James Lowerer against the city. The heirs of the late James Lowerer, who died in 1857, were claiming the right to their former property on the west side of Pier 26, North River. Mr. Rollins finds that the city took this water front without authority in 1878, when the Dock Commissioners decided to widen West Street. The water was worth $250 a lineal foot, or $23,375. The referee directs that the water rights be restored to the heirs unless the city pays the value within thirty days.

Sing Sing's Annual Camp Meeting. Sing Sing, N. Y., Aug. 6.—The sixty-fourth annual camp meeting of the Sing Sing Camp Meeting Association began to-day. Some improvements have been made upon the grounds since last year's meeting, and the tents are generally being way to wood-camp cottages. There will be a temperance rally on Saturday, and Sunday will be the big day. The meetings are under the supervision of Rev. A. J. Bonish and Rev. Thomas Harrison. "The Boy Profranchiser" will be in attendance.

MRS. MORGAN WILL FIGHT.

Contest of Her Election as a School Trustee of New Rochelle Creates Bitter Factions.

Mrs. Charles H. Morgan, of New Rochelle, declared yesterday she would act as a school trustee "despite the tricks of politicians," and Henry S. Clarke reiterated his assurance that she would not. Her election Tuesday was amid great excitement, and the protest against it has created factions from New Rochelle to Palham.

"I am not in public life; I have retired. I have four children and accepted the nomination for the reason that in view of their welfare, which is the welfare of the coming generation, I have been honestly elected and will serve. There is nothing in the protest, my name is inscribed as Mrs. Charles H. Morgan instead of Harriet McGurran Morgan on some ballots. The city of New Rochelle is called a village on others. But what of it? "My supporters in this battle are the most respectable, intelligent and influential persons here. "R. H. Scott, A. T. Schaffner and M. Enright, who were elected on the same ticket as Mrs. Morgan, said "she was elected and will serve." Edward Gardner, professor of Greek, said: "Mrs. Morgan is a housekeeper, and governing schools is not governing a house. It is a woman's work."

GOULD'S HAND SHOWN. Match Literature is Being Used with Effect in His Attack Upon the Diamond Company.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—The Continental Match Company, Edwin Gould's concern, has opened its fight here on the Diamond Match Company and is flooding the city with literature, all of which is having its effect. The opening of the Stock Exchange is still waiting on the Moore Brothers and the report of the sub-committee of the government is the main theme. The Diamond Match property held by the suspended firm. The governing committee of the Stock Exchange held a meeting this afternoon, and adjourned subject to the call of the secretary, without accomplishing anything toward the settlement of the Moore Brothers tangle or the opening of the Exchange. Moore Brothers have not yet furnished a statement of their financial affairs, and are not in shape for the forming of a pool to buy in Diamond Match and New York Biscuit stock.

QUAY SAYS HE'LL RETIRE. Announces That He Will Give Up Politics to Cultivate Acquaintance with His Family.

Pittsburg, Aug. 6.—Before he left for Florida recently, Senator Quay announced that he would positively retire from politics as soon as his present term expires. He requested that he not be named in any statement until he got away where he could not be asked questions about it. He said: "It has often been said by others, but I have never said it myself until now. At the expiration of my term in the United States Senate, I will retire from politics and spend the balance of my time getting acquainted with my family. "Then, I hope to do some good in the world, as he has done in the past, to the best of his ability, and to the end of his term. But the business of the world is not his, and he has seen to it that he has not been so often, and has been an often utter, "Quay out of politics," will be a verity."

BUTLER CONDEMNNS FUSION. North Carolina's Senator Also Attacks National Chairman Jones.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 6.—Senator Butler's paper to-day attacks the proposed electoral fusion with the Democrats, and also attacks Chairman Jones. It says: "The Democratic State Executive Committee has passed resolutions which bear the name of fusion, and it is not a fair and reasonable. The real purpose is to try to make a proposition which no self-respecting Populist could entertain for a moment, and which would be a disgrace to the party. It is rejected, to go before the people and try to make it appear that the Populists are not honest because they rejected overtures looking to cooperation with the Democrats. "The article further says that Chairman Jones is a strong representative of the worst type of Bourbon Democracy, and would be a disgrace to the party. He is not a "thick" with Whitney, Hill and Brice than support Bryan or any genuine reform Democrat."

WRIGHT YIELDS TO SILVER. The Pennsylvania Committee Will Resign His Office.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 6.—After next Thursday, Democratic State Chairman E. E. Wright will no longer be State Chairman, as he will resign at the meeting of the State Committee, to be held in this city on that day. Colonel Dillinger to-day filed in the State Department the certificates of nomination of the electors nominated by the Democratic State Convention, held at Allentown. The list contains the names of George W. Guthrie, Harrisburg; Samuel W. Pennock, Philadelphia; and Joseph J. Brooks, Sewickley, electors who have informed Chairman Wright that they cannot stand with the fusion ticket. Colonel Dillinger says that Chairman Wright, after resigning, will not have anything to do with the management of the campaign. It is said here that the gold standard electors on the Democratic ticket will remain on until fifteen days before the election, when they will withdraw in an attempt to disorganize the ticket.

Ratified Chicago Nominations. The Tammany organization of the Seventh Assembly District held a meeting last night at No. 232 West Fourteenth street and ratified the nominations of the Chicago Convention and passed resolutions vindicating the course of Perry Belmont, William C. Whitney and others who favor a third ticket and openly avow their opposition to the Democratic national ticket.

Scheme to Elect Silver Men. Alpena, S. D., Aug. 6.—A secret organization has been formed in Jerauld county within the Republican party for the purpose of electing free silver candidates both in the State and nation. Prominent Republicans in the county and some of the State have filed important Federal positions under Republican administrations—are identified with the cause.

Peffer Wants Another Term. Topeka, Kan., Aug. 6.—Senator W. A. Peffer authorized the announcement yesterday that he is a candidate for reelection to the United States Senate. In his card he says he has no claims beyond many other faithful Populists, and urges only one qualification—that of six years' experience.

Virginians Praise the Journal. Richmond, Va., Aug. 6.—A Bryan and Sewall Club was organized here and resolutions were adopted commending the New York Journal. The meeting was a large one, and was held at the residence of Mr. Sewall as the chief campaign paper in the country.

WILL INDOSE THE BRYAN ELECTORS.

Populists' Plan in New York Is Not to Split the Silver Vote.

Where Silver Democrats Are Up for Election No Populist Will Be Named.

Where Only Gold Democrats Are Running a Silver Man Will Take the Field.

DR. J. McCALLUM EXPLAINS THE PLAN.

In This Way Only, He Says, the Silver Vote Can Be Made Effective, but the Organization Will Still Be Maintained.

Dr. J. McCallum, one of the Populist delegates-at-large from New York State, called to see William P. St. John yesterday at the silver headquarters in regard to the attitude of the Populists in this State. Mr. St. John was not in, and Dr. McCallum talked with Mr. McLoughlin. "We will establish New York headquarters in about three weeks," he said. "They will be nominal headquarters, and we will co-operate with the silver people and the Democrats to secure the election of Bryan and Sewall. "When our delegates returned from St. Louis we held a meeting and ratified the ticket nominated at St. Louis. The endorsement, however, as regards Mr. Watson, is more complimentary than anything else, as we cannot aid his election. We have little more than 20,000 votes in this State, and cannot demand a representative on the Democratic electoral ticket. Therefore we will endorse the Democratic electoral ticket in this State. "We shall not split the silver vote by putting up another candidate. Some few Socialists and middle-of-the-road men are in favor of putting up a third ticket, but we shall not. The Populists of the State will work and cast their votes for Bryan and Sewall. We will be in perfect accord with the Democrats. "Plan of Operation. "We shall not put up a single candidate for any State or national office where a silver Democrat is nominated, but in every district where a gold standard Democrat is nominated for Congress we shall put a silver nominee in the field. The people are in favor of silver and understand the necessity of putting silver men in Congress to back up the administration of a silver President, and there will be a silver candidate for Congress in every district. "In districts nominating silver Democrats the Populist vote will go to those candidates. "As to the gubernatorial vote, the situation will be the same. If the Democrats are elected, the Populist vote will stand by him. If they do not, we will put up a silver candidate for Governor. "Will the Populists support Stanchfield?" he was asked. "Stanchfield has declared himself for Bryan and Sewall, but his endorsement of the platform has not been very strong. If he endorses silver we will vote for him and endorse him. "When asked how the Populists proposed to maintain their party organization in case they endorsed a silver Democrat, Dr. McCallum replied: "To maintain organization. "By our local tickets we do not propose to give up our organization in New York State, any more than in other States. We shall cast our full vote under the Populist caption and maintain our organization for Congress in every district. "To maintain organization. "By our local tickets we do not propose to give up our organization in New York State, any more than in other States. We shall cast our full vote under the Populist caption and maintain our organization for Congress in every district."

SPLIT IN THE GOLD CAMP.

Many of the Indianapolis Delegates Opposed to the Third Convention Plan.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 6.—Several members of the Provisional Committee of the gold standard Democrats arrived to-day, and by noon to-morrow there will be thirty-five States represented in this city. The local managers now concede that there will be some division of sentiment on the question of holding a national convention, but hope that the sentiment in favor of the step will be so pronounced, when the members get together, that the opposition will quietly acquiesce without making itself manifest in the meeting.

It is urged by the opponents of the convention plan that a vote for a gold standard ticket is but a half vote against Bryan, after all, and that, in such States as Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kentucky and a few others, a third ticket would be in his favor, rather than against him, for it puts the Democratic vote of opposition just where it will do him the least harm. "The local sentiment at work here against holding the convention in this city if it can be called to-morrow. Many conservative citizens do not believe the Indianapolis has sufficient hotel accommodations for a crowd, and it would be best for the convention to go elsewhere.

ST. JOHN'S SECRET TRIP. Goes by Yacht to See McLaughlin and Seems Pleased with the Interview.

South Jamesport, L. I., Aug. 6.—An important conference between W. P. St. John, the treasurer of the Democratic National Committee; A. B. Roeber, of Denver, and Mr. Cotter, of Brooklyn, and Hugh McLaughlin, was held at the Great Peacock Bay Hotel this afternoon. The party of silver men stole secretly into this port on board the steam yacht "Amoretta," which had been chartered for the expedition. They were met by John Shea, who escorted them to the hotel, where the Brooklyn boss was awaiting their arrival. There was a long conference between the party which lasted until the west bound afternoon train was due, when they departed for New York. Neither McLaughlin nor John Shea would disclose the object or outcome of this meeting. The outcome was apparently satisfactory to all in it, and it is stated upon pretty good authority to-night that McLaughlin and his party will come out for the endorsement of both ticket and platform. Senator Jones is expected at the Peacock House to-morrow.

HANNA IN PHILADELPHIA. Talked About Money for the Campaign, but None Was Subscribed.

Philadelphia, Aug. 6.—Mark Hanna stopped over here to-day on his way from New York to Cleveland, and held a consultation with a sub-committee of the Business Men's National Campaign Committee. Charles C. Hartman, the millionaire sugar refiner, met Mr. Hanna at the station and escorted him to the Stratford Hotel, where the committee awaited him. Among the gentlemen present were John W. Wameter, Charles Emery Smith, Rudolph Blankenburg, chairman of the sub-committee; John H. Converse, of the Railroad and motive works; Theodore C. Search, president of the National Association of Manufacturers; Mayor Charles F. Warwick; William M. Slattery, Joseph F. Simpson, and Frank Thomson, vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The question of raising money for campaign expenses was talked over, but no subscriptions were made to-day. From 5 until 6 o'clock Mr. Hanna was entertained at dinner at the Union League Club by Silas W. Pettit, president of the club, and at 8:50 this evening left for Cleveland.

FUSION IN NORTH CAROLINA. P. M. Pearsall Thinks Democrats and Populists Will Unite for Bryan.

P. M. Pearsall, of Newberne, N. C., a member of the Bryan and Sewall Notification Committee from North Carolina, is at the Metropolitan Hotel. "The gold men declare," he said yesterday, "that the Populists staid the Populist platform. There is no material difference in it, especially with reference to finance, that has not been in the Democratic platform of North Carolina for the last twelve years. "At the meeting of our State Executive Committee a proposition was made to make a division of electors with the Populists, but that depends upon the action of the Populist State Convention, August 13. I believe the rank and file of the Populists will accept it. Even if it is rejected, I believe a large percentage of the Populists will vote for Bryan and Sewall. Our State ticket, I believe, will be elected. Our candidate for Governor, Cyrus B. Watson, is not only an advocate of silver, but has been fighting trusts for years."

SANGUINE FOR SILVER.

General Warner Says It is Hard to Tell What States Will Not Give Their Votes to Bryan.

Springfield, O., Aug. 6.—General A. J. Warner, president of the Bimetallite League, said to-day in an interview on the political outlook: "Unless something occurs to stop the sentiment for silver, and I cannot imagine what could occur to effect the change, there is no telling what States Bryan will not carry. I have met a great many men and have been in a great many different places this year, and I find a wonderfully widespread belief that the restoration of silver to its proper place in our financial system is our only hope of a return to prosperity."

"Do you have any hopes of carrying any Eastern States?" "I do not see why we should not," was the answer. "New York, outside of the city itself, is for silver. The agricultural classes in both New York and Pennsylvania are for free silver. Out West nearly every one is a silver man. "What do you think of the situation in Ohio?" "I am firmly convinced that Bryan will carry Ohio. As I said before, it is difficult to predict what States will give their electoral votes to the free silver candidates."

MILES WILL SUPPORT BRYAN. Maryland Congressman Refuses to Bolt His Party's Ticket.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 6.—Congressman Joshua W. Miles, of the First Maryland District, who has heretofore been looked upon by the gold standard Democrats as one of them, has written a letter to the editor of the Kent News, in which he says he will heartily support Bryan and Sewall. "The fight on the money question," he says, "has been within the party. The party has divided, and the decision has been made. I do not see how I can do less than yield to the clear decision that has been made. I must acquiesce in the decision. I do so. I do not oppose my own views on which have received the endorsement not only of 90 percent of my own people, but also of many worthy persons in whose judgment I have been in the habit of placing much reliance. "I shall vote for Bryan and Sewall, and if I am nominated for Congress and elected I shall carry out the wishes of my people and represent them to the best of my ability."

Political Swindlers at Work. For several days some persons unauthorized have been soliciting money to be expended in the raising of campaign banners. They said they were representatives of the Republican National Committee. Several have been made victims and a complaint was made yesterday which caused W. B. Scott, of the Executive Committee, to state that anybody soliciting money for any such purpose was a swindler and should be turned over to the police.
