The programme began with a dance in the barn, then a cake walk and then a clam bake. The barn was the center of interest. Mrs. Gebhard and her assistants had transformed its bare walls. Sheafs of green corn, wheat and speltz were fastened to every available spot till hardly an inch of wood was visible.

The clam bake was a success. The invitations were for an al fresco fete, and Green Court was in gala attire when the guests began to arrive about 10 o'clock. Everything was favorable.

FAT REDUCED. CHEF CRUMP

Was Steward Under Hayes and Garfield—He Grew Fat—He Used Dr. Edison's Pills, Salt, Compound and Band, and Got Thin and Well.

Only Obesity Treatment Admitted at the World's Fair.

(Washington Star, Feb. 24, 1896.) "William T. Crump, who was a steward in the White House during President Garfield's life and the President's nurse has been compelled to resort to Dr. Edison's Obesity Treatment to reduce his flesh in order to save his life. During President Garfield's long illness Crump was always at his bedside. It was his duty several times daily to lift the wounded President forward on his pillow. Crump was a heavy man, and this frequent lifting for six weeks gave him an affection of the spine, so that now it is unable to hold the weight of his abdomen. He weighs 250 pounds, and must reduce his weight in order to live. When Crump went to the White House as steward for President Hayes he weighed 225 pounds. His weight

Increased to 275 pounds and since he left the White House it has increased still more. Mr. Crump served in the same regiment with Major McKinley during the war, and he believes that if Major McKinley had elected President he would again become a steward at the White House. Mr. Crump's suffering was aggravated by the weight of his abdomen. Dr. Edison's Obesity Band, while giving Mr. Crump's form, throws his weight upon the hips, thus affording him immeasurable relief.

Read what Mr. Crump (see portrait above) has written of his case and its treatment by Dr. Edison's Obesity Remedies:

"I am, Washington, D. C., Feb. 25, 1896. I received your Obesity Band, and I am very happy to say that I can report going well. I commenced your treatment Feb. 5, yesterday being the twenty-fourth day. I have lost in flesh 22 pounds and measure two inches less around the waist. Dr. Edison's Obesity Band proves the greatest blessing I ever experienced. I am doing wonderfully well." March 15, 1896. Mr. Crump writes: "I have lost more flesh during the last week. I am feeling much better and can walk better, faster and take a longer walk than I have been able to do for some time. I have lost 40 lbs. after several weeks' treatment. I have given up my treatment, but have again commenced taking it. I have lost 25 pounds. My double chin is all gone and I can wear a collar two inches smaller than before I took Dr. Edison's Treatment for Obesity. My breathing is better and I feel and look 100 per cent better, and I congratulate me on my improved appearance." June 10, 1896. Mr. Crump writes: "I have fallen off 40 pounds since I commenced taking your treatment. I continue, thanks to the Obesity Band, to decrease in size round the abdomen."

The portrait below that of Mr. Crump is that of Mrs. Lou Heaton Beatty, who writes: "In four weeks Dr. Edison's Pills and Salt reduced the 20 pounds and made my form much better." The portrait immediately above represents Mrs. Clara Crocker Madison, who writes: "Six weeks' use of Dr. Edison's Obesity Pills and Band reduced me 30 pounds and brought my abdominal measurement down five inches."
