

If Summer Resort managers wish to fill their houses they should advertise in the special Summer Resort issue of The Journal, June 14.

THE JOURNAL.

Persons seeking pleasant Summer homes or vacation resorts are sure to get the useful hints from the advertising columns of The Journal.

PAGES 9 TO 16.

MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1896.—SIXTEEN PAGES.

PAGES 9 TO 16.

Ye Merrie Month of June

THE HARDIN-STEVENSON NUPTIAL CELEBRATION.

A Portrait of the Bride-Elect Taken Especially for the Journal's Wedding Number and the Latest Photograph of the Prospective Groom.

JUNE.

- 1.—Miss Prudenca Vidaurt Milmo to Prince Albert Radziwill, the Church of St. Francis Xavier, West Sixteenth street, at 11 o'clock.
- 1.—Miss Helen Sheffield to Mr. William Lottimer, at the Church of the Incarnation, Madison avenue, corner of Thirty-fifth street, at 5 o'clock.
- 1.—Miss Vene Hart Montrose to Mr. Charles Ellison Crawford, at the Church of the Ascension, Fifth avenue, corner of Tenth street, at high noon.
- 1.—Miss Isabelle Mabel Goldsmith to Mr. Jerome C. Adler, at the residence of the bride's mother, No. 29 East Seventy-ninth street, at 8:30 o'clock.
- 1.—Miss Julia Stevenson, daughter of Vice-President and Mrs. Stevenson, to the Rev. Martin D. Hardin, at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, Washington, D. C.
- 2.—Miss Annie Gordon Paddock to Mr. Louis J. Foster, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Frederick A. Paddock, No. 17 West Tenth street, at noon.
- 2.—Miss Frances Meyers to Mr. Isaac S. Sanger, at Hotel Brunswick, at 6 o'clock.
- 2.—Miss Freda Dyckman to Mr. Alexander M. Welch, at her home, Kingsbridge road and Two Hundred and Eighty-ninth street, at 4 o'clock.
- 2.—Miss Emily Vase to Mr. Bertram Lyon, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Thomas Vase, Fourth street, New Brighton, S. I., at 4 o'clock.
- 2.—Miss Grace Fanshawe to Mr. George Marshall Allen, of New York, at the Church of the Redeemer, Morristown, N. J., at noon.
- 2.—Miss Kathleen W. Wallace to Mr. T. Albert Adams, at the Church of St. Francis Xavier, Sixteenth street, West, at 6:30 o'clock.
- 2.—Miss Harriet Corinne Moore to Mr. James Fisher Pickens, at the residence of the bride's parents, No. 242 West One Hundred and Thirtieth street, at 8:30 o'clock.
- 2.—Miss Caroline J. Bonner to Mr. Henry H. Arthur, at Florida, Orange County, N. Y., at 2 o'clock.
- 2.—Miss Fannie Constance Goldsmith to Mr. Isaac Eichhorn, at the home of the bride's mother, No. 20 East Seventy-ninth street, at 6:30 o'clock.
- 2.—Miss Sule M. Sileck to Mr. Jesse A. Chase, at the residence of the bride, No. 138 West Seventy-ninth street.
- 2.—Miss Cora E. Noble to Mr. Daniel E. Everts, at the Hotel Empire, at 8:30 o'clock.
- 2.—Miss Edith Brownlow, of Knoxville, Tenn., to Mr. George W. Williams Metcalfe, of New York, at Knoxville.
- 10.—Miss Nellie Brokaw to Mr. Carl Fischer Hansen, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Isaac V. Brokaw, No. 1 East Seventy-ninth street, at 4 o'clock.
- 10.—Miss Frances Hunter to Mr. Shafter Howard, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas B. Hunter, Rhode Island avenue, Newport.
- 10.—Miss Katherine Sanford to Mr. Victor C. Thorne, at Golden Hill, Bridgeport, Conn.
- 10.—Miss Cornelia Battershall to Dr. Henry Pearce, at St. Peter's Church, Albany.
- 10.—Miss Lily Clarke to Mr. James Westervelt, at Upper Montclair.
- 10.—Miss Florence Woodhull Alling to Mr. John Price Cole, at the residence of the bride's mother, Eryiccliffe, Park Hill, Yonkers, at 8 o'clock.
- 15.—Miss Christine D. Schwartz to Mr. William Fowler Morgan, at St. Bartholomew's Church, Madison avenue, corner of Forty-fourth street.
- 15.—Miss Cornelia Boorden Zabriske to Mr. William Temple Emmet, at the country seat of the bride's father, Mr. August Zabriske, Westhampton, L. I.
- 17.—Miss Christine Roeck to Mr. John Van Ripper, at the residence of the bride's mother, No. 248 West Forty-fifth street, at 8:15 o'clock.
- 17.—Miss Eleanor Cross to Professor Allen Marquand, at the country residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Cross, South Orange, N. J.
- 17.—Miss Marguerite Forst to Passed Assistant Surgeon Frederick Gettan Braathwaite, at the American Consulate, Buenos Ayres.

SHEPHERD--LOTTIMER.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon Miss Helen Sheffield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Sheffield, of No. 103 West Seventy-eighth street, will be married to Mr. William Lottimer, at the Church of the Incarnation. The bride, a pretty brunette, will wear white corded silk, a tulle veil, fastened by orange blossoms, and carry a bouquet of white sweet peas. She will be attended by a maid of honor, Miss Edith Dupignac, whose gown will be white and green silk. Mr. Alfred Lottimer, the bridegroom's brother, will be the best man, and the ushers will be the Messrs. Paul Bonner, J. Searle Barclay, Jr., C. G. Baldwin, William Abbott, Frank Rutherford and Benjamin Sheffield, the bride's brother. No reception will be held after the ceremony.

One of the most notable weddings that has ever taken place in Washington will occur next Tuesday evening, when Miss Julia Stevenson, daughter of the Vice President, will be married to the Rev. Watt Hardin, of Kentucky, son of Watt Hardin, the last Democratic candidate for Governor of the Blue Grass State.

The affair will be attended by the most fashionable society of Washington, most of the diplomatic corps, Senate and House being expected. It will be especially interesting from the fact that it is probably the first wedding of a daughter of a Vice President which has ever taken place at the national capital. Miss Nellie Grant was married at the White House, and so was Mrs. Cleveland, and several other women in bygone days, but this will be the Cleveland in her personal appearance. The accompanying portrait, taken expressly for the Journal, is an excellent likeness of her. Young and beautiful, Miss Stevenson has many warm friends in Washington, and is exceedingly domestic in her taste, preferring a quiet life to the publicity of an official position. She was educated at the State University, Illinois, and at Wellesley College. As the affianced bride of a minister she has taken no part this winter in society's dances.

The bridegroom has been pursuing his theological studies for some time at a seminary in his native State, and is said to be a very eloquent speaker. He is dark and slender, a man of fine appearance, and his face is one of intelligence and force. He met his future bride at an entertainment lashed his studies, and she was so very young, the wedding was postponed until now. The marriage will take place at 8 o'clock to-morrow evening at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, a friend of the bridegroom officiating. At nine a reception will be held at the Hotel Normandie and all the friends of the family, both in public and private life, will be in attendance. The bride's gown will be of white satin, trimmed with white lace. Her father will give her away.

Miss Letitia Stevenson, youngest daughter of the Vice President, will be the maid of honor. She is a pretty blonde and will be attired in pink gauze, richly trimmed. The bridesmaids will be Miss Julia Scott, Miss Letitia Scott, cousins of the bride; Miss Jane Hardin and Miss Julia Hardin, sisters of the bridegroom. They will all be dressed alike. Mr. Charles Hardin, the bridegroom's cousin, will be the best man.

The church will be elaborately decorated. Flowers will bank the chancel, and tall palms, asparagus and smilax will wreath the pulpit. At the reception, which will take place at the hotel immediately after the ceremony, the entire lower floor will be thrown open and lavishly trimmed with palms and vases of cut flowers. A buffet supper will be served from nine until eleven. After the reception, Mr. Hardin and his bride will leave for Bowling Green, Ky., where they will spend the summer, and in the autumn they will go abroad and reside in Edinburgh, Scotland, for two years. Many handsome presents have been received by Miss Stevenson, including gifts from the President and Mrs. Cleveland, the ladies of the Cabinet, diplomatic corps, House and Senate. Among those who will be present at the marriage are the President and Mrs. Cleveland, Justice and Mrs. Fuller, Justice and Mrs. Sigsbee, Justice and Mrs. White, Secretary and Mrs. Carlisle, Secretary and Mrs. Olney, Secretary Lamont, Secretary and Miss Herbert, General and Mrs. Nelson A. Miles, Senator and Mrs. Sherman, Speaker Reed and Mrs. Teed, the Secretary of Agriculture, and Miss Morton, the Attorney General, the Secretary of the Interior, the British Ambassador, Sir Julian Pauncefote, the German Ambassador, the Ministers from China, Spain, Switzerland, Brazil, Portugal, South American Republics, the Russian Ambassador, and many of the Senators and members of the House of Representatives.

Miss Julia Scott Stevenson

Martin D. Hardin

first marriage of a Vice President's daughter, at least within the remembrance of the present generation.

Miss Stevenson is the second daughter of the Vice President, Miss Mary, the eldest, having died over a year ago. Miss Julia was one of this winter's debutantes, the "coming out" party for herself and a younger sister having been given some months ago at the Normandie Hotel, where the family of the Vice President is stopping. She is a young woman of remarkable beauty, having a slender, well rounded, graceful figure, which is always stylishly attired in most becoming gowns. Her face is full; her dark hair is worn combed high from a low brow, and her blue eyes are shaded by long black lashes. She is regarded as being strikingly like Mrs.

in Kentucky, while she was visiting at her mother's old home.

Mrs. Stevenson was a Miss Letitia Green. She is descended in a direct line from a collateral branch of Washington's family, and boasts of the best Revolutionary blood. Her father, the Rev. Mr. Green, was for a long time a professor in a college in Kentucky. One of his daughters married the wealthy Matt Scott, and is now one of the richest widows in Washington. The other, when on a visit to Bloomington, met and won the heart of the Vice President. The sisters named their two daughters Julia and Letitia, after themselves.

Miss Stevenson and Mr. Hardin have been engaged for some time. The announcement was made last year, before she was introduced to society, but as she had not fin-

VAN RIPPER--ROECK.

Miss Christine Nilson Roeck will have a dainty wedding on June 17, when she becomes the bride of Mr. John S. Van Ripper. The marriage will be celebrated at 8:15 o'clock in the front drawing room of her mother's home, No. 248 West Forty-fifth street, which will be charmingly decorated for the occasion with quantities of marguerites.

A bow of these will be arranged between the windows, where the ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Father Smith, of the Church of the Holy Cross.

Miss Roeck is one of the prettiest of June's brides—a tall, graceful girl, with fair hair and a beautiful complexion. She will wear white satin trimmed with point lace, which adorned her mother's wedding gown, and a tulle veil fastened with sprays of orange blossoms. Miss Magrath will attend her as maid of honor, wearing white Dresden silk and carrying a bouquet of daisies.

The two bridesmaids will be Miss Martha Van Ripper, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Estelle Conda. They will be dressed alike in white dotted Swiss made over Nile green silk and trimmed with Valenciennes lace. Each will carry a big bunch of daisies.

HOWARD--HUNTER.

The first society event of the season at Newport will be the wedding of Miss Mary Frances Hunter, youngest daughter of Mrs. Thomas R. Hunter, to Mr. Shafter Howard, of San Francisco, which will occur at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of June 10 at the home of the bride's mother, on Rhode Island avenue.

About 1,400 invitations have been sent out for it, and the Mr. Hunter household will be taxed to its utmost capacity to accommodate the guests. It was intended to have the ceremony performed by Rev. Dean G. J. Magill, but as he is in Europe his place will be filled by the Rev. E. L. Buckley, of the Zabriske Memorial Church.

An altar will be erected in the bay window of the hall, which will be elaborately decorated with palms. Here the bride will be met by the groom and his best man, his brother, Mr. Carl Howard. There will be no bridesmaids or maid of honor. The bride will be given away by her brother, Mr. William R. Hunter.

Miss "Mollie" Hunter, as the bride has been known in society, is tall and handsome, and a decided brunette. She is the youngest of three sisters, and comes from an old Rhode Island family.

COLE--ALLING.

Miss Florence Woodhull Alling will be the first bride married at Park Hill, Yonkers. Her wedding will take place on June 10, at Eryiccliffe, the residence of her mother, Mrs. Emma H. Alling, overlooking the Hudson.

Miss Alling is a very beautiful girl, and the man she will marry, Mr. John Price Cole, is also remarkably fine looking. She is the daughter of the late William Tennant Alling and granddaughter of the late Forman Hendrickson.

Miss Alling will have no bridesmaids, only one attendant, a maid of honor, Miss Arline Smith, who will wear pink silk and chiffon and carry pink roses.

The bride's gown will be of white satin, patterned after the style of Josephine. She will wear a tulle veil and have a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mr. George E. Morgan will be the best man, and the ushers will be Mr. Arthur Reed, a cousin of the bride, and Mr. Arthur E. Filley.

Three generations will be represented at the marriage. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Forman Hendrickson, who is eighty-two years old, and Mr. Cole's grandmother, Mrs. Corlies Price, eighty-six years of age, are both expected to be present.

WALLACE--ADAMS.

The chancel of St. Francis Xavier's Church will be a perfect field of daisies on Wednesday evening for the marriage of Miss Kathleen W. Wallace to Mr. T. Albert Adams. Thousands of white Marguerites will decorate it, mingled with delicate greens, above which tall palms will nod and wave to the rhythm of the music.

The ceremony will be performed at 6:30 o'clock by the Rev. John F. X. O'Connor, S. J., who will be assisted by Father Van Rensselaer, Father Halpin and Father McKinnon.

The bride, a tall, lovely brunette, will wear a magnificent gown of white satin, the bodice of which will have an exquisite square yoke of duchesse lace, framed by pearl embroidery. Her tulle veil will be fastened to her coilure by sprays of orange blossoms, among which a magnificent diamond ornament, the bridegroom's gift, will be arranged. She will carry a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride's going-away gown is a very stylish costume of brown tulle, lined with green soft rose silk and trimmed with primrose yellow, a brown hat which accompanies it has a wreath of yellow morning glories around its crown.

FIRST JUNE WEDDING.

Union of a Prince and an American Beauty.

Style and Grandeur Best Describe the Coming Event.

Lilies and plums, fragrant white carnations, the Milano flower, will trim the Church of St. Francis Xavier this morning for the marriage of Miss Prudenca Vidaurt Milmo to Prince Albert Radziwill.

They will be the first wedding of June, and all society will attend it, for the pretty young bride is one of its favorites, and a sister of one of its most popular young matrons, Mrs. Eugene Kelly, Jr.

The chancel will be a mass of green and white. The beautiful altar will be set against a background of tall palms which Tholey will weave into a delicate, lacelike network, forming an exquisite dossal. Twelve golden vases filled with Ascerion lilies will be arranged on the altar, the rail in front of which will be entirely of white blossoms. Bushes of lilies will guard the entrance to the sanctuary, and will be tied to this wall of flowers by broad white satin ribbons.

On either side of the chancel will be a prie-dieu—one for the Archbishop, the other for the celebrant, the Rev. T. E. Murphy, S. J. The same formal scheme will be followed in the treatment of the two side altars.

The marriage ceremony will be performed at eleven o'clock by Archbishop Corrigan, assisted by Father Murphy, the rector of the church and president of the College of St. Francis Xavier.

The bride's gown is a most beautiful creation of white satin, decorated in the proper point lace and orange blossoms. She will be attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Leonore Milmo, her sister, and Miss Beales, a granddaughter of the late Eugene Kelly. Prince Matias Radziwill, the bridegroom's second brother, will serve him as best man, and the ushers will be Mr. Patricio Milmo, of Mexico, the bride's brother; Mr. C. Wyndham Quinn, Mr. J. Rich Steers, Mr. C. T. Matthews, Mr. Thomas Kelly and Mr. T. Pearsall Thorne. The bride's father has come here from his home in Mexico for the purpose of giving her away.

A reception will be held after the marriage at the residence of Mrs. Eugene Kelly, Jr., No. 19 Washington square, North. Prince Radziwill is a lieutenant in the Russian army, and is the eldest of a family of six children. He has a handsome fortune of his own, and possesses a number of titles. He can write himself Duc de Nowiesz, Duke of Olyka, Prince of the Holy Roman Empire and Duke of Kleck.

CUPID'S CONQUESTS

Society is interested in the engagement of Miss Mary Ogden to Mr. Gardner Sherman.

Miss Sallie E. Kinler, of Brooklyn, and Mr. George V. Board of Virginia, are engaged. Their marriage will take place in July.

Miss Fannie Jerome, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Jerome, of Washington Heights, is engaged to Mr. Paines Pinsky, Jr., of Rochester.

Miss Julia Ludlow's engagement to Mr. Hansen is announced. Miss Ludlow is the daughter of the Rev. Dr. James M. Ludlow, of East Orange.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Nina Byron to Mr. C. William Stone. Miss Byron is the daughter of the late George Gordon Byron, of Orange, N. J.

The engagement of Mrs. H. Van Rensselaer Kennedy to Mr. George S. Robbins is announced. She was a Miss Robbins and he is a son of the late George A. Robbins and brother of Mr. Julian Robbins.

Miss J. E. Mathilde Gosler, daughter of Mr. C. H. Gosler, is engaged to be married to Mr. Robert E. Lewis. Mr. Lewis is a brother of Mrs. Edwin A. Stevens, of Castle Point, Hoboken.

From New Brunswick, N. J., comes the interesting news of Miss Grace W. Schenck's engagement to Mr. Robert E. Painter, a graduate of Columbia School of Mines. Miss Schenck is the daughter of ex-Senator A. V. Schenck.

The engagement is announced of Miss Martella Ord to Mr. David Dwight Wells. Miss Ord is a daughter of Dr. Ord, of No. 87 Upper Brook street, Grosvenor square, London. Her father is the second secretary of the American Embassy there.

Miss Mary W. Bradley, daughter of Mr. V. Wainwright Bradley, of No. 41 West Thirty-third street, is engaged to Mr. Murray H. Kunkin, son of the late Judge Murray Hoffman and brother of Colonel William Hoffman, secretary of the Legation of Paris for some years. The wedding will probably be celebrated in June.

Of international interest is the engagement of Miss Alice Horwitz to Count Andreaxxi, of Italy. The announcement comes from Rome, where the pretty Baltimorean has spent several winters with her mother, Mrs. Orville Horwitz, occupying a delightful palace. They have surrounded themselves with most charming friends, and have achieved great social success in the Eternal City. Miss Horwitz's fiance is described as a wealthy, handsome and interesting. Her marriage will probably take place in June.

A PINK WEDDING.

Everything will be pink and white at Miss Nellie Brokaw's marriage to Mr. Carl Fischer-Hansen on Wednesday, June 10, at 4 o'clock. The wedding will be celebrated at her home, No. 1 East Seventy-ninth street, which is one of the handsomest residences in that part of town, and a house admirably adapted for large functions. The bridal procession will enter through be dressed like the other attendants, except that her costume will be white, unadorned by any color, and her nosegay will be of white sweet peas. She will precede the bride, who will walk with her father, Mr. Isaac V. Brokaw.

The ushers, Mr. Arthur Little, Mr. B. B. McAlpin, Mr. Buckering Houston, Mr. Robert Driscoll and the bride's two brothers, Mr. Irving and Mr. Howard Brokaw, will hold the white satin ribbons which will form an aisle through the drawing room for the bridal cortege. At the floral chancel Mr. Fischer-Hansen and his best man, his uncle, Sir Captain von Fischer, will meet the bride, receiving her from her father, who will give her away.

Mr. Carl Fischer-Hansen.

Miss Nellie Brokaw.

A large reception will follow, and an elaborate buffet collation will be served.

A MEDLEY OF PRETTY SOUVENIRS TO BE DISTRIBUTED AT THE COMING WEDDINGS.

