

MANY FOURTH REGIMENT OFFICERS MAY RESIGN.

Row in the Jersey Militia Over the Memorial Day Parade.

Colonel Ordered His Command Behind the Jersey City Police and His Officers Object.

THEY OBEYED MARCHING ORDERS.

Seventeen Resignations Said to Have Been Written for Presentation Next Friday—Colonel Abernethy Explains.

Seventeen line officers and a number of the members of the Fourth Regiment of the National Guard of the State of New Jersey may resign because their commander, Colonel Hugh H. Abernethy, decided that the Jersey City Police Department, under command of Chief Benjamin Murphy, should have the right of line during the Memorial Day parade.

The regiment, according to the plans of Lieutenant-Colonel William B. Mason, who acted as grand marshal of the parade, was to have the right of line. Shortly before the order to march was given, however, the plans were changed by Chief Murphy, who refused to detail a squad of police to march in front of the militia.

When the men had been dismissed, however, in their company rooms at the armory, they discussed the matter and severely criticized the actions of their commanding officers.

Colonel Abernethy said yesterday: "The Police Department was given the right of line in response to the requests of a number of people. The full force of police was present, and it was advisable to place them in front of the militia."

Chief of Police Murphy was more emphatic: "The police, I want it understood," he said, "were in their proper place. We were willing to take second place in line, although the militia led the way last year. This whole trouble is too childish to discuss."

Another ordinance which also passed to third reading provides that after October 1st, no saloon shall prohibit music in its parlors, and that the fine for such violation shall be $250 a year, as at present.

Both of these ordinances will be finally passed by the Board of Aldermen and without any opposition.

MURDERER DIES IN A PRISON.

William Agnew, Who Killed His Wife, Found Dead in His Cell.

Trenton, N. J., June 1.—William Agnew, who was serving a twenty-year sentence for wife murder, died at the State Prison this morning. He was found dead in his cell. It is believed his death was due to apoplexy.

Agnew was sentenced in May, 1887, by the Burlington County Court. His appeal was before the Court of Pardons at the last term, and was laid over. His counsel claimed he was a man of good character.

NOT SCARED BY HIS RIFLE.

Fight Against a Fish Pound Fails—Warrant for a Hotel Man.

Elberon, N. J., June 1.—True to their word, the William K. Blodgett Fish Company, began work upon their new fish pound between the Elberon Hotel and the White Cottage early this morning.

Manager Joseph Y. Jordan, of the Elberon Hotel, stationed himself on the beach yesterday, and with a loaded rifle forced the workmen to abandon their labors.

TO WRECK A TROLLEY CAR.

Third Attempt Made at Avondale, N. J., Comes Near Being Successful.

Franklin, N. J., June 1.—An attempt was made last night to wreck a car on the Passaic & Newark Electric line at Avondale. The timely discovery by the motorman of the obstruction prevented a serious wreck.

NEWARK PREACHER ROBBED.

Woman Overhears a Conversation and Has Two Men Arrested.

Newark, N. J., June 1.—Rev. Frederick W. Hook, of the Second German Presbyterian Church, appeared in the police court today to press a charge of robbery against Charles Zahn and Edward Logan.

Liquor Dealers Fined.

Thirty-three liquor dealers indicted for violating the 2 o'clock law on Sunday were yesterday arraigned to plead in the Hudson County (N. J.) Court of Sessions.

JERSEY POLITICS MIXED.

Both Republicans and Democrats Have Rows on Hand and the Strife Is Bitter.

Trenton, N. J., June 1.—The Republicans in the State are undergoing the troubles incidental to the party in control of affairs. There are several serious squabbles now disturbing them, notably the cases in Essex and Hudson counties. There are factions in each of these counties. The leaders of the respective factions are determined to rule.

Then there is the complication in the State delegation to St. Louis. The preferences of the twenty delegates several weeks ago showed fight for McKinley, eleven opposed to him, and Garret A. Hobart non-committal in consequence of his candidacy for the Vice-Presidential nomination.

The only possible change since the figures were last made up, is McEwan, Congressman from the Seventh district. McEwan is strongly pronounced. Most of the other delegates are also at odds over the Presidential nomination.

When Senator Smith gave the delegates to Chicago a knock at the Manhattan Club in New York not long ago, a poll of the delegates was taken. Smith stated he was for Cleveland and a third term, and McGinnis backed him up. As a result of the announcement was made that the delegation stood 18 for Cleveland and 2 for Russell.

There is good reason to believe that the leaders in this State who are supporting Cleveland have some knowledge that the President is ready to accept the nomination. Otherwise there is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold.

Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term. It is not only the masses, but the party leaders, however, apparently view with alarm the tendency toward the ex-Governor of Massachusetts.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

There is no accounting for the determined effort to keep the delegates in the fold. Certainly the sentiment among the Democratic masses is decidedly adverse to a third term.

FORCED TO WED AT A BALL GAME.

Second Baseman Arrested at Play and Married to a Young Woman at Once.

Justice Performed the Ceremony Just Outside the Grounds, but the Bridegroom Was Unwilling.

BRIDE WAS A DETERMINED OHIO GIRL.

She Came from Cleveland, and After Pleading Legal Advice and a Constable, Goes After Her Husband—A Most Unique Ceremony.

South Orange, N. J., June 1.—Justice of the Peace Charles Sturtevant, of this city, performed a marriage ceremony Friday afternoon last under most peculiar circumstances. The facts were brought to light yesterday.

One of the most interesting incidents in a Newark paper Saturday afternoon: MARRIED. CAMERON—KELLOCKE—On Thursday, May 29, at Shooting Park, Vailsburg, Essex County, New Jersey, by Charles Sturtevant, Justice of the Peace, Kate Cameron, of Cleveland, O., to John Kellocke, of Cleveland, O.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

Elizabeth, N. J., June 1.—Rosalee Gagen, nine years old, daughter of Patrick Gagen, of No. 84 Franklin street, died at 11 o'clock last night, as the result of an error made by her mother.

BOTH SEE HIM CRUSHED.

Wife and Daughter Look on While Charles Wischler Gets Fatal Injuries Under a Trolley Car.

Newark, N. J., June 1.—Mrs. Charles Wischler, looking out of the window of her home, No. 26 Hamburg place, this morning, saw her husband knocked down and mangled by a trolley car of the Hamburg place line. Wischler's daughter shouted that she saw her father slowly crossing the track, and she also saw him struck. But the old man—he is seventy—was not hurt.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived. Mrs. Wischler raised her father's head and kissed him and begged him to speak to her. The aged wife tottered to the scene, but neighbors led her away before she saw her husband mangled feet.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

The heavy car struck the old man on the side, and he was dragged about twenty feet before he was killed. The car stopped. Just as he was pulled beneath the car Mrs. Wischler and her daughter arrived.

Motorman Waters and Conductor Arcuri were arrested, but were released on $1000 bail. The trolley was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died at 10 o'clock, three hours after the accident occurred.

FIGHT TO CONTROL STATEN ISLAND POLICE.

Old Board Gets an Injunction Restraining the New Officers from Acting.

Alleged That the New Law Was Improperly Passed and Is Unconstitutional.

BIG POLITICAL ROW IN PROSPECT.

Justice Barnard Will Hear Argument in the Case at Poughkeepsie, on June 13—Contest to Be Prolonged.

Stapleton, S. I., June 1.—The five members of the newly-constituted board to appoint Police Commissioners were today served with a temporary injunction restraining them from making any appointment and an order to show cause why a permanent injunction should not issue.

The order was obtained by De Groot, Rawson & Stafford, counsel for the present Police Commissioners, from Justice Barnard, and is returnable on June 13 at Poughkeepsie.

The affidavits upon which the order was issued were made by Clarence T. Barrett and Robert M. Hazard and by Counselor Sidney F. Rawson. These set forth nearly a score of reasons why the order should be issued, and among them are: That the original proposed bill was last after its original passage by the Senate and that a printed copy was taken to the Assembly, passed and signed, and not the original; that the law is unconstitutional in that it provides that the new Commissioners shall represent only one-half of the force, the highest and next highest number of votes in the last Presidential election; that if the old Board were appointed, this action would be compelled to take quo warranto proceedings to establish its rights, and that should they keep possession and the appointment of the new Board be allowed to proceed, a disastrous conflict of authority would result, demoralizing the force and wasting the public money.

This action on the part of the old Police Commissioners prolongs the fight over the control of the police force for two years. A bill to legislate out the old Board, which Nicholas Muller was president, was pending in the Legislature in 1895 when the regular Democratic organization lost control of the Board of Supervisors at the February elections. At the last meeting of the Board, the Police Board resigned in a body and a new Board, consisting of two Republicans and one Democrat, was appointed. This action was taken in a split among the Republicans over the Police Reorganization bill, and it failed to pass.

One of the Republican Commissioners died several months ago, and no appointment has been made to fill the vacancy. This year the Republican organization was again united for the reorganization of the police force, and the law signed last week by Governor Morton was forced through by a majority of the party.

The appointment of a bi-partisan board of two in the hands of the Republican District-At-Large and County Clerk, the County Treasurer, an Independent Democrat, and the County Judge, a regular Democrat.

CRUSHED BY A HORSE'S HOOF.

Boy Wheelman Terribly Injured in Accident at Dundee Lake, N. J.

Dundee Lake, N. J., June 1.—Richard Crumpton, a thirteen-year-old boy, residing at No. 421 River street, Paterson, was out riding on his bicycle last night, when a surveyor containing Mr. Hunter, of North Paterson, and his wife and children, struck his wheel. Crumpton was thrown under the horse's hoofs, and the animal's hoofs struck him under the party wheel. It cut through his nose and the roof of his mouth and left three ugly cuts. The animal also cut a big gash in the lady's thigh and injured her hand. Crumpton was attended by a surgeon, who, although the lad was terribly injured, said he might recover. Mr. Hunter, a member of his family, was not seriously hurt.

SHE THREW VITRIOL ON HIM

Michael Kelly and Wife Go to Jail After a Hard Fight.

Camden, N. J., June 1.—Michael and Elizabeth Kelly had a quarrel last night. Mrs. Kelly appeared in court today with her eyes discolored and her head bandaged. Kelly was a sorry sight, the skin being missing from his hands, face and neck.

Mrs. Kelly told the Court that Michael assaulted her and drove her out of the house and knocked her down in the street. In falling she struck the curbs, cutting an ugly gash in her head. She visited a drug store and had her injuries dressed, after which she returned home. The quarrel was renewed, and during the fight Mrs. Kelly claimed, his wife threw the contents of a bottle at him, which burned his face and neck and clothing. The bottle was a bottle of Wallace Seed, colored drug store. Wallace Seed, colored drug store, was sent to jail for twenty days.

POLICE BROKE UP THE FIGHT.

Captured Two Men Who Hid in a Ditch After the Raid.

Two of the crowd of sports who, while engaged in watching a prize fight in the Glendale Woods, Jersey City, Sunday afternoon, were raided by Captain McKelg and a squad from the Fourth Precinct, were yesterday arraigned before Police Justice Douglas. They were Martin Feeney, twenty-two years old, of No. 108 Williams avenue, and Wallace Seed, colored drug store. They were held for further examination.

The police broke up the fight the sports and principals fled in all directions through the woods. Feeney and Seed were thrown into a ditch in which they were hiding.

RABBI SOLD HARD CIDER.

Not Only That, but Sunday Sales Led to His Conviction.

There was a crowd in Judge Demesa's court at Plainfield, N. J., yesterday morning to attend the trial of Aaron Gorwitz, a Jewish Rabbi, who was accused of violating a city ordinance in selling hard cider on Sunday.

The abill entered a plea of not guilty. A bottle of the cider was produced in court and sampled by the Justice and the District Attorney. He had been a patient at the institution and during the absence of the nurse, left his bed and jumped to his death.

Knocked Down by a Wheelman.

Montclair, N. J., June 1.—Miss De Camp, an aged woman, while walking through St. Luke's place last night, was knocked down by a wheelman on the sidewalk. The woman received an ugly scalp wound. Complaint was made, but the wheelman was not arrested.

Church Anniversary Celebrated.

Red Bank, N. J., June 1.—Yesterday was the sixteenth anniversary of the Grace M. E. Church, and the anniversary was celebrated by the church members. The church property was burned, the paper being destroyed by James S. Throckmorton, president of the Board of Trustees. The anniversary sermon was preached by Rev. Thomas Hanlon, pastor of Pennington Seminary. Grace Church is an offshoot from the First M. E. Church. Disciples arose sixteen years ago, and the objectors withdrew and organized another church. The present pastor is Rev. William Mitchell.

Body Found in North River.

Jersey Life Saver's Duty.