NEW YORK TRIBUNE

THE MOST MODERN FRENCH ARMY HOSPITAL TRAIN

MARCH 5, 1916.

Travelling for the wounded is made easy by hanging stretchers. Jarring is reduced to a minimum by powerful springs.

Exclusive photograph, taken by official photographers of the French army and published by special arrangement with the Minister of War.