

Inspecting work on the new trunk sewer at Forty-sixth Street and Tenth Avenue. President Marks second from left.

President Marks, Secretary Ferguson, and the confidential stenographer.

Installing a street sign of a new type. The avenue and street are indicated on the same sign. President Marks (left), Commissioner Folks (right), and Secretary Adams.

Around the Map of Manhattan with Borough

Daily Conference of President Marks and his Cabinet. From left to right: John H. Boschen, Deputy Commissioner of Public Works; Arthur Easing, Secretary of Public Works; Ralph Folks, Commissioner of Public Works; President Marks; J. W. Adams, Borough Secretary; Amos Schaeffer, Consulting Engineer; George T. Van Valkenburgh; Wm. Archibald Ferguson.

A meeting of a Borough Advisory Commission—conferring on proposed New York Central West Side plans.

President Marks and Commissioner Folks

Opening the S... ploys are enco...
gestions for th...
administration