

NEW YORK'S SCHOOL CHILDREN SALUTE THE STARS AND STRIPES—Flag Day on June 14 was fittingly celebrated by the West 130th Street Neighborhood Association. Pupils of Public Schools 68 and 24.

Mrs. F. M. Carter, of New York, sounding reveille at the woman's training camp at Presidio, Cal.

PUZZLE: FIND COLONEL ROOSEVELT'S GRANDCHILD—He's somewhere in the cushions carried so tenderly by Kermit Roosevelt. While going to meet his son and grandson on their return from South America the Colonel felt a stitch in his side.

CHARLES E. HUGHES, III—This photograph of the grandson of the Republican candidate for President was taken on Riverside Drive on June 15.

RAISING A MILLION FOR THE ALLIES—Among the hardest workers for the Allies at New York's Million Dollar Bazaar were Valli Valli and her dog Royce. Royce collected more than $100. The photograph shows them in action at the booth of the British War Relief Association. If you want to see Valli Valli again drop into the "Cohan Revue 1916," at the Astor Theatre.

NEW ORLEANS WOMEN MARCHED FOR PREPAREDNESS ON JUNE 3. On June 18 somebody somewhere in the U. S. woke up and asked the militia if they were prepared. The female of the species is deadlier than the male when it comes to Preparedness.