

Fearing the gum shoe detective of the rival manager, Mr. Woods is keeping the

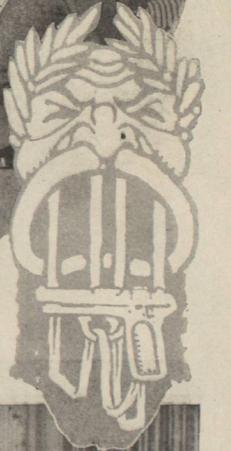

SCENES FROM "CHEATING CHEATERS," AN
 ALLITERATIVE STRAIGHT CROOK
 GUN PLAY TO BE PRODUCED
 BY A. H. WOODS AT THE
 ELTINGE THEATRE
 ON NEXT WEDNESDAY.

Photos by White

plot dark. But you can see that this is a police hold-up.

Here you get a fountain pen inkling of a tense moment. The jewels are produced automatically.

The jewels are covered, though in plain view. Man with the gun seems to have the situation well in hand.

This man person is of a grasping nature. Deponent sayeth not as to which he's after, throat or pearls.

Marjorie Rambeau, who plays the leading woman role. Without knowing, we surmise that she cheats the cheaters and rescues the man she loves from the toils.

Our dope sheet, there being no past performance record on file, is that he of the ulster is a crook, and that he of the turn-back cuffs is the head scene shifter getting the drop on a chief cheater.