

The Tribune Graphic

NEW YORK TRIBUNE,

Section Two

AUGUST 27, 1916

When Three Cardinals Pledged the Loyalty of 18,000,000 Catholics to the United States.

Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, and his attendants on the way to pontifical mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral.

©Underwood & Underwood.

Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, and his attendants leaving the New York diocese Papal house for the pontifical mass at the Cathedral.

©Underwood & Underwood.

Archbishop Bouzano, Apostolic Delegate, in the pontifical mass procession which opened the annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies in New York last week. 15,000 laymen gathered for the convention.

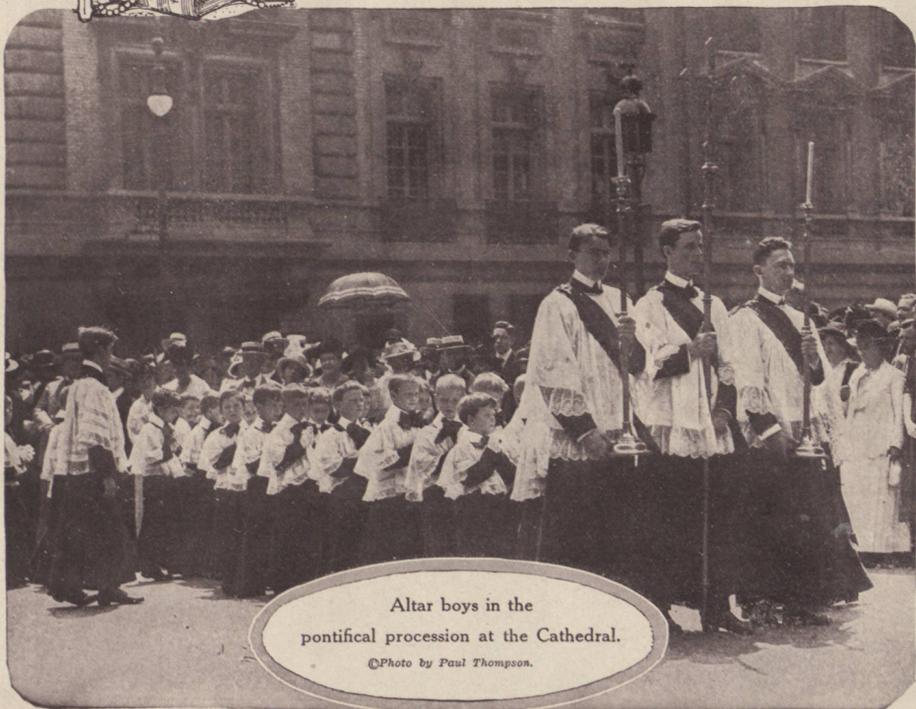

©Underwood & Underwood.

Monsignor Lavelle, of New York, who read the Apostolic Benediction at the Catholic Societies' Pontifical Mass.

©Underwood & Underwood.

Altar boys in the pontifical procession at the Cathedral.

©Photo by Paul Thompson.

Cardinal Farley, of New York, and his attendants in the Pontifical Mass procession.

©Underwood & Underwood.