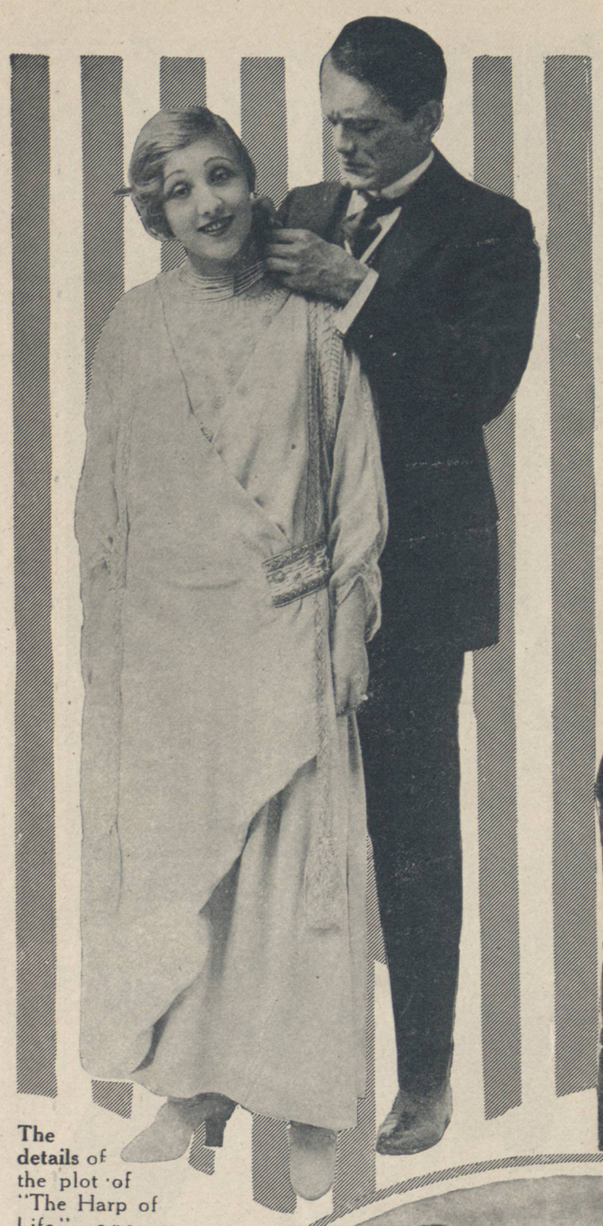
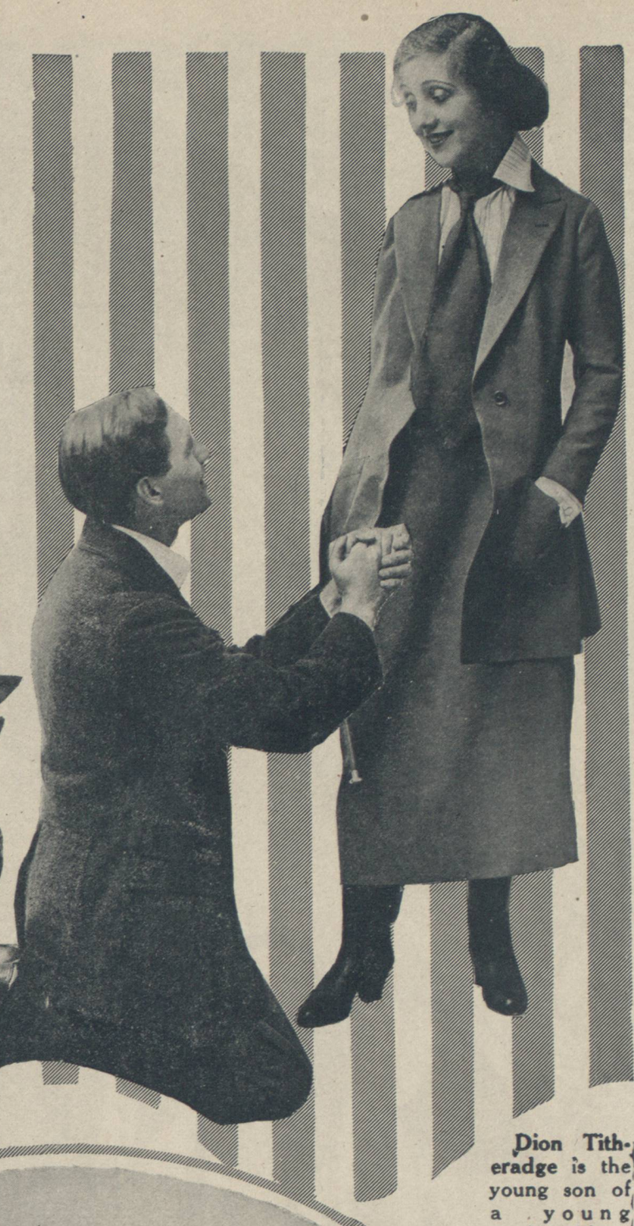
To Demonstrate That She Is Not a "One Part" Actress, Laurette Taylor Has Put Aside Her Precious "Peg" for a Serious Role in "The Harp of Life," in Which She Plays the Mother of a Young Man of Nineteen.

Photos by White.



The details of the plot of "The Harp of Life" are a guarded secret, so it is enough to know that this picture is of Miss Taylor and Philip Merivale.

Laurette Taylor, whose new play, by her husband, J. Hartley Manners, will be seen here Thanksgiving week.



Dion Titheradge is the young son of a young mother, whose task it is to reclaim him from a notorious woman.

In the new play Miss Taylor is presumed to be 36 years old. The role is the most dramatic with which she has ever been identified.

Mr. Manners, who wrote "Peg o' My Heart," is said to have done himself quite as proud in "The Harp of Life."

Lynn Fontanne, Dion Titheradge, Philip Merivale, Ffolliot Paget and Miss Taylor in a scene from the play.