HOTEL BELLECLAIRE

Broadway at 77th St.
Surface Cars at Door
Subway at 79th St.
Only a few minutes from the Shopping and Theatrical District.

Chauncey M. Depew, at the age of 82, said that the way to prolong life is to live right, and to continue to take a lively interest in the world's affairs.

One of the advantages of living at the HOTEL BELLECLAIRE is that the food served is wholesome and non-dyspeptic. As people move along toward sixty, then seventy, then eighty, then ninety—the food they eat must be just right. BELLECLAIRE FOOD IS JUST RIGHT!

Another advantage of living at the HOTEL BELLECLAIRE is that everybody keeps young because there is no opportunity to lose one's interest in the bright, cheerful things of life.

There's music, laughter, good cheer—everywhere in the Hotel. So everybody keeps young and happy.

There are guests here who have outlived the allotted time—70 years—which David said was the limit of life; but you would not know they had done so, they are so young in action and thought.

One guest, a great deal older than Mr. Depew, eats three square meals a day, smokes big, black cigars, and enjoys life. Old? Not he!

We will not guarantee you long life if you live at the BELLECLAIRE—because that is not in our hands. But we will guarantee that, as long as you live here, you will have the comforts which conduce to long life.

ROBERT D. BLACKMAN.
