

THE CREAM OF THE WEEK'S NEWS PICTURES

The newly arrived men for the Officers' Training Camp detrain at Plattsburg. To the extreme right are seen some of the quarters just erected for additional accommodations.

Photo © Underwood & Underwood.

Prominent Washington society women training to be motor ambulance drivers. In the centre (x) Mrs. Borden Harriman. At her feet (xx) her daughter, Ethel, prominent in New York society.

Photo Paul Thompson.

Joffre unveils a tablet to Lafayette at Prospect Park, Brooklyn. Left to right, M. Viviani, Mayor Mitchel, Marshal Joffre and Ambassador Jusserand.

Photo Greety Service.

Count Ilya Tolstoy and New York's most famous colonel photographed during a recent conference regarding the new Russian democracy.

Photo American Press Association.

The Great Neck, L. I., Home Guard makes its first appearance at the taking over of the rifle range presented to the local gun club by W. R. Grace. Above, a general view of the flag raising ceremonies.

Photo Central News Service.

The honor table at the dinner given to the Allied Commissions at the Waldorf. From left to right, Admiral Chocheprat, the late Hon. Joseph H. Choate, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, Marshal Joffre, Governor Whitman, the Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, Mayor Mitchel, M. René Viviani, Ambassador Jusserand, ex-President Taft and Senator Calder. The vacant chair next to Marshal Joffre is that of Colonel Roosevelt, who left to bid farewell to the California delegation sent abroad.

Photo © Underwood & Underwood.

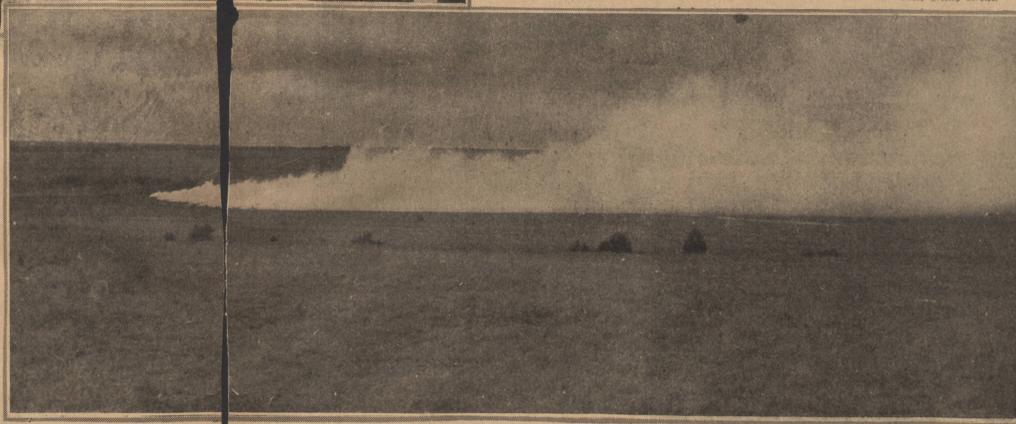

How they throw hand grenades. This is a scene behind the second line on the Franco-German front.

Photo Press Illustrating Service.

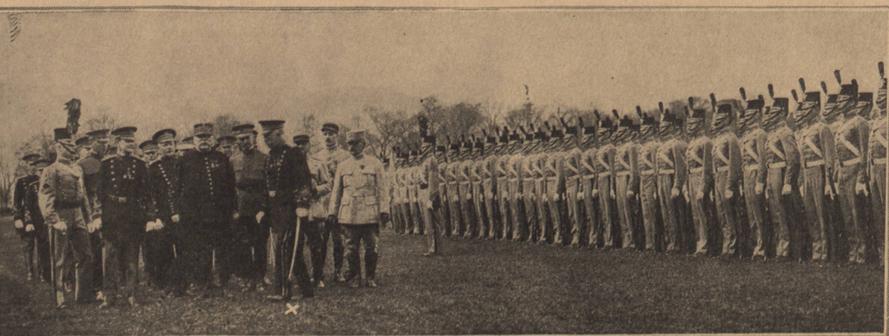

Members of the Italian Commission greet fellow countrymen working on the roof of the Waldorf. (1) Enrico Arlotto, Minister of Marine; (2) Gaetano Pietra, Commissioner of Agriculture; (3) Alviso Bragadini, Commissioner of Transportation.

Photo © International Film Service.

From the Western Front—a wave of poison gas rolling slowly across the field to the French trenches. It is moving to the leftward.

Photo Central News Service.

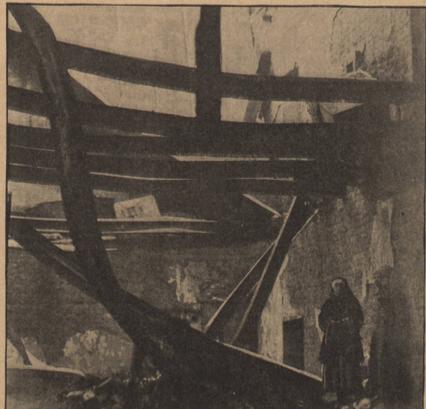

Colonel Biddle (x) holds a review of the West Point cadets in honor of Marshal Joffre and his accompanying officers.

Photo Greety Service.

Miss Cecilia Swain, the first woman bootblack in New York, shifts 'em up for a dime at the Hotel McAlpin. One more field fight to the onslaught of feminine labor.

Photo © Underwood & Underwood.

A Red Cross sister, with a Russian revolutionary officer wearing a red cockade, in the ruins of a prison fired by the people.

Exclusive Photo © Underwood & Underwood.

Columbia University holds a special convocation before the statue of Alma Mater to bestow honorary degrees on the distinguished visitors. (1) M. Viviani, (2) Ambassador Jusserand, (3) Professor Brander Matthews, (4) Marshal Joffre, (5) President Butler.

Photo © International Film Service.

American aviators attending the demonstration at the statue of Lafayette in Paris. Left to right, Adjutant Lufbery, an unnamed French flyer, Captain Tenot, Corporal Bigelow and Lieutenant William Thaw.

Photo American Press Association.