

The Japanese Mission to the United States accommodates the photographer on the steps of New York City Hall. At Mayor Mitchel's right are Viscount Ishii, head of the mission, and Judge E. H. Gary. On the Mayor's left are Ambassador Sato and Vice-Admiral Takeshita of the Imperial Japanese Navy.

Mrs. Oliver Harriman who is undertaking some co-operative food dehydration work with Dr. L. P. Brown, Director of the City Health Department, Food and Drug Division—photograph taken at the National Exposition of Chemical Industries, Grand Central Palace.

On the left, a remarkable picture showing the second contingent of American troops in London crossing Whitehall and passing the British War Office—the large building on the left. Londoners have turned out by the thousands to give our boys a royal welcome.

Mr. Guy Emerson, of the National Bank of Commerce, assists a crew of poster men in pasting up the base of the Washington statue in front of the Sub-Treasury Building with the new Liberty Loan posters.

A new and unusual picture showing Premier Kerensky (arrow) of Russia fraternizing with his loyal troops on a recent visit to the battle front.

Paul Thompson.

Central News