

Utter desolation reigns on Dead Man's Hill. Where once trees and luxuriant foliage flourished is now barren as a desert, showing the terrific struggles that must have taken place before the French were left in possession. On the left—an old German trench; right—ready to shoot the Boche with one of their own captured guns.

Liberty Loan subscriptions and inquiries received by mail in one day. This group of enthusiastic employes in front of the Treasury Building are showing how the country is responding to the call.

Harris Ewing—From Paul Thompson.

Harry Lauder campaigns for the Liberty Loan. The appeal of the little Scotzman, who has given his son and his entire fortune to the cause, met with a hearty response from the noonday Wall Street throng in front of the Sub-Treasury Building the other day.
