

At a British school for officers on the Western front these American officers are finishing their education in modern warfare. The training here is given in rifle, grenade and bomb work. Underwood.

Fully equipped Italian infantryman — When fighting he turns out the white lining of his overcoat, now thrown over his gun, and covers his head with a white hood. Thus clothed, he is almost invisible against the snow.

Inter. Film.

British and Italian soldiers in the trenches at Piave, near Ciano.

Though near the Austrian lines, this Italian supply base at Adamello is practically safeguarded from attack by surrounding cliffs. Williams Service.