

This naval recruiting poster by Lieutenant Henry Reuter Dahl, U. S. N. R. F., was designed for distribution abroad, and particularly in Russia, to show that the United States is actually in the war

German submarine rammed to pieces on the French coast. Official, Underwood & Underwood

Some Tommies having dinner in a captured village on the Western front. Official, Underwood & Underwood

Near where artillery is incessantly firing, the British have established gun hospitals in which all but the irreparably injured guns are mended and sent back after a few days for another chance at the enemy. British Official, Underwood & Underwood