

OUR BOYS TRAINING AT THE FRENCH FRONT

Photographs © G. H. B. Service

IN TRAINING—Under the supposed protection of a perfect barrage these American troops have gone over the top, and are making their way through the barbed wire defence toward the enemy trenches.

Fresh troops advancing from billets in the rear to take up their positions in the first line trenches.

Machine gun crew going through barbed wire.

Some of the soldiers have left their trenches and are charging toward the enemy, while others still in the trenches are preparing to go over.