

ROMANTICISM IN THE OFFING

The famous gondolas of old Venice are huddled together at their moorings to make room for the passage through the lagoon of transports carrying a battalion of the "Brigata Marina" on their way to the front.

© Western Newspaper Union.

How England cares for the children of her munition workers. The afternoon nap at the day nursery at Woolwich Arsenal.

© Underwood & Underwood.

Ancient cave-dwelling systems have come into their own again at the French front.

© Central News.

A British observation balloon coming to earth after a morning overlooking the enemy's positions.

© British Official, from Kadel & Herbert.

Before smiling at the naïve wonder with which these natives of Bagdad are gazing at this London fire engine, let us picture the size and rapt attention of the crowd that would gather around the same object in our own sophisticated city.

British Official, from Western Newspaper Union.

German prisoners waiting to be vaccinated. Isn't Science wonderful?

© Kadel & Herbert.