

The man who is responsible for the making of democracy's steel ships is Charles M. Schwab, who recently completed a tour of inspection covering the great plants all over the country. This is the way he was received by the force of workmen at the Todd Drydock Construction plant at Tacoma, Wash.

© L. A. Dix Photo Co.

After dinner we stroll into the drawing room for a little music. American Red Cross Convalescent Home No. 1, occupying the country house of the Hon. Mrs. Spender-Clay, at Lingfield, Surrey.

Postmaster - General Bureson, now in control of all telephone and telegraph wires in this country.

One of the big guns which helps keep things lively in the enemy's backyard.

British Official Photo

Italy is doing more than win victories on her own soil. This picture shows Italian soldiers in France lined up and waiting to be hurled against the Hun. The troops here shown belong to the Alpine brigade.

French Pictorial Service.