Only a few minutes from the Shopping and Theatrical District.

There will be the usual home gathering at the Belleclaire during this month. The folks that have been living in the country since last Spring are now seeking the cosy corners in the Belleclaire, and getting settled for the winter months. Home-coming, however, is almost a daily event so far as the Belleclaire is concerned. Somehow our guests feel as we do, that when we meet, even if it is not oftener than once a week or month, it is a home greeting. We like to see the old friends and they like to see us. It is a mutual pleasure and satisfaction.

There is a certain security and confidence when we get together. It is this that makes everybody very comfortable and happy.

Whenever you feel like it, drop in on this contented family party and share with us the good cooking and all of the other home comforts.
