Only a few minutes from the Shopping and Theatrical District.

Please keep in mind our Thanksgiving dinner for next Thursday. We start to serve it at 1 o'clock sharp and will continue to serve until late in the evening. This permits you to arrange your dining hour as you please.

We have featured an old-fashioned Thanksgiving Dinner for several years which has been appreciated by the strangers in New York, also by many New Yorkers. Everybody gets home cooking, home environment, home good will. We always have a happy party on Thanksgiving Day.

There is a great deal for everybody to be thankful for this year, even for those of us who have some of our heart-strings broken in the process of reconstructing the world. Those gone ahead of us have left a heritage that we must take up wholeheartedly and with courage and with determination. There must be no repining.

The Thanksgiving Table brings out in us all every good thought and inspires us to do our duty.

Brill Brothers
BROADWAY AT 49th ST.

LOOK sharp at this picture and see the heavy load this little tree is carrying of that delicious russet dull-golden-hued vase-shaped pear that makes your mouth water whenever you see it—epicure that you are—and its name is as autumnal and redolent as the fruit itself—

"Beurre Bosc," they call it. You have probably imagined (from the fancy prices you have paid for it) that it grows in some far-away Maxwell-Parrish land, and no doubt it does—but you can grow it also in your own backyard on an initial investment of the humdrum sum of one dollar per tree (or $7.50 for ten). And the same is true of many other epicurean varieties of pear, apple, plum, cherries, grapes and berries—you can grow some of the most delicious fruit you ever tasted—right on your own grounds—at ridiculously low cost—and have all the fun and pride besides. Send for our new booklet, "More from Your Land," illustrated in colors—which tells you all you need to know. Ask for it by mail, phone or personal call—soon, so you can act on its appetizing suggestions before it gets too cold.
