

General Pershing acknowledges the thanks of the nation when the Senate and House in joint session pay glowing tribute to him as commander of our overseas army.
International.

Members of both houses, the Diplomatic Corps, the Cabinet, the army and navy chiefs, can be identified in the distinguished assemblage that listens to General Pershing's address.

A new photo of beloved Queen Marie of Rumania taken on her special train while visiting the peasants at Transylvania, who have filled her car with varied and colorful gifts in appreciation of her ministrations. Outside of Bucharest Queen Marie always dresses in native costume.
Wide World Photo.

Standing bareheaded, the League's champion drives slowly through San Francisco's cheering crowds, his flag-bedraped car a veritable floral chariot. One of the President's businesslike Secret Service bodyguards from his vantage point on the runningboard of the car carefully scrutinizes the crowd.
Keystone View.

Roland Rohlfs, just down from the greatest height ever reached by man. For twenty minutes he flew over Long Island at a height of six and a half miles. The rarefied air above 20,000 feet necessitated his taking oxygen—43 below zero made his heavy Arctic costume imperative.
International.

Galveston's powerful sea wall, constructed after the 1900 disaster, withstands the pounding waves of a tropical hurricane and saves the Gulf City from serious damage and loss of life similar to that which befell Corpus Christi.
Wide World Photo.

The Curtiss Wasp 400 h. p. triplane, a machine and motor designed and made in America, in which Rohlfs made the world's altitude record of 34,610 feet at Mineola recently.
Underwood.