

TONY SARG

JUST as Tony Sarg views his stage from above the drops when he operates the wires that animate his marionettes, so does he visualize his New York when he takes his paint brush in hand. Here is what the twinkling bird's eye of this versatile artist caught one rainy day at Broadway's breeziest corner.