

There's nothing upstage about the Prince of Wales. Everywhere on his tour of Canada he mingled with his people in a truly democratic way. Here he is in friendly consultation with the engineer of his special train.
Central News

Right—The Prince of Wales as a captain in the British navy on board H. M. S. Renown, the battle cruiser on which he made the trip from England and which will be his headquarters while visiting New York.
Central News

—Wearing his characteristic yachting cap, looking cheerful and rugged, Sir Thomas Lipton, confidant of winning America's Cup next June, arrives in New York to inspect the Shamrock IV, laid up here for five years.
Kaplan Photo

Right—The most recent photograph of Calvin Coolidge, reelected Governor of Massachusetts, and his wife, snapped with the smile of victory lingering on their faces. He is considered as a Presidential possibility.
Underwood

The smiling, rosy-cheeked, democratic, twenty-five-year-old heir to the British throne who will be the guest of Father Knickerbocker this week. New York's royal visitor will arrive from Washington Tuesday morning.
W. N. U.

Should another railway strike hit England perhaps the Prince of Wales will help out by taking a throttle himself. He has proved his ability to do so by skillfully driving one of the C. P. R.'s biggest locomotives.
Central News

Left—According to news reports, the Prince of Wales must have decorated practically every statue in Canada. Here he is reverently placing a memorial wreath on the MacDonald monument at Kingston.
Central News

A honeymoon photo from Japan of Francis Burton Harrison, Governor General of the Philippines, and his bride, who is the Governor's third wife. She was Elizabeth Wrentmore, eighteen-year-old California student, when married last May.
Adachi

A recent photograph of Major General John Biddle, former commander of the A. E. F. in England, who is military aid to his Royal Highness, The Prince of Wales, during his visit in the United States.
Underwood

Major J. H. Beith, better known as Ian Hay, author of "The First Hundred Thousand," has donned mufti and is paying us a visit. He arrived from England last Monday. His play, "Tilly of Blumsberry," is to be produced here.
International

Left—Remarkable photo of the U. S. S. Birmingham of the Pacific fleet just missing a steamer which cut across its bow during recent maneuvers. Skillful seamanship by Capt. Frank Evans (son of late Admiral "Fighting Bob" Evans) averted disaster.
U. S. Navy Official, from W. N. U.

Right—Costly Oriental rugs pave the way for the Sultan of Turkey as he approaches a tent outside of Constantinople, where he is to receive deputations from his empire. His luxurious yacht lies alongside the wharf.
Donald Thompson, from Mirzoeff

