

Dr. James Chambers Tells Why Christ Ministered Mostly in Cities.

NEW YORK'S DIRE NEED LIKES NOT OUR HOTELS. Asserts that the American Woman Has a Weazened Look and Tells Why.

Butcher-Evangelist Says Our Haunted Prosperity Is Depression.

At the meetings of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, in the Gospel Tabernacle at Forty-fourth street and Eighth avenue on ordinary days, and at the American Theatre on Sundays, which delegates from lands as far as India attend, the herculean figure of the Rev. Henry Varley, of England, attracts rapt attention.

Calumnies, will and tranquil force are expressed in him. He does not resemble his pictures. His vast head, his scarce hair, his eyes full of thought, his nose distant from his mouth, fine and benevolent, his rounded chin, which a short white beard, cut in the fashion of the Greek chiefs before Troy, surrounds, form signs which in language are irregular, clear in reality, a beautiful harmony of white and pink color gives to his face a serenity that attracts irresistibly respect and admiration.

Christ and the City.

No one can escape the significance of the historical fact that Jesus exercised His ministry almost entirely in cities. Nazareth, Jericho, Chorazin, Bethsaida, Capernaum—how much He did to inspire these places with higher and nobler thoughts.

Polysyllabic New York.

They did begin in Jerusalem. There Peter preached to Antiochians, Medes, Elamites, and Mesopotamians in vast numbers on a single day, and thousands were persuaded to accept the new faith.

Among the Protestants.

The Church of the Heavenly Rest, Fifth avenue and Forty-third street, Rev. Dr. F. F. Farrar, moderator, will hold its meeting on Sunday, October 25th.

Among the Catholics.

Yesterday afternoon the Stuart Robson Company gave a benefit matinee at the Montauk Theatre, 100 West 11th street, for the relief of the poor.

Some Pulpit Themes.

The following subjects are announced for tomorrow: "The Atonement," by Rev. William H. Brock, St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, Fifty-third street, near Broadway.

Among the Israelites.

Rev. Dr. Gotthelf will preach to-day at Temple Emanuel-E. on "Worship and Charity."

Among the Episcopals.

Rev. Dr. G. F. Kroll, D. D., editor of the Lutheran, will deliver the address on "The Christian's Duty to the State," at the annual convention of the Lutheran Synod of the United States, held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York, on Sunday, October 17th.

Among the Presbyterians.

Rev. Dr. J. H. McMane, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, 100 West 11th street, will deliver the address on "The Christian's Duty to the State," at the annual convention of the Presbyterian Synod of the United States, held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York, on Sunday, October 17th.

Rev. Henry Varley.

He is sixty-two years of age, and has been a preacher since he was sixteen. He was a butcher and an evangelist for thirty years of his life. His sermons have the plainness of commercial reports, and they captivate men for that reason, doubtless, and also for the reason that they are so plain.

"The lawlessness of the Western cities is amazing to me. Even in San Francisco the refuge of all the exiles of other lands, there is no excuse for the contempt in which it holds human lives. The long delay in investigating a crime, the narrow, black, cravat, after breakfast he gave in a familiar talk yesterday his impressions of America. He said over Jerusalem because He foresaw her doom.

"It was true, too, that He instructed His disciples to make the cities the centre of their teaching and religious service. So, such a man as Paul went to Corinth, Athens, Rome and many other cities, going also to the most remote points of the globe. He certainly regarded them with the utmost feeling and tenderness, as evidenced when He wept over Jerusalem because He foresaw her doom.

"The power of the liquor merchants is astounding. Think of the fact that in most cities the workingman is lured to drink by the lure of the saloon. In Lake City there is a press in favor of polygamy, which is a worse evil, the greatest evil that the world has to offer. In Minneapolis and other cities, which were so rich, the agents of his employers are rich, and he is starving. He will not stay there, he will return to Wales, for his employers and his employers' agents are able to find many men to work for him at insufficient wages. The worker should be rewarded; the agent who lives off the producer and the consumer burns at both ends the laborer's candle.

"In New York I am saddened by the habit of living in hotels, in boarding houses, in flats, which is indicative of nothing save the decadence of the home ideal. To an Englishman it is destructive of the entire fabric of social life for married people to congregate in big houses instead of creating separate homes for themselves. How do they do it? how can they do it? By an organized system of child murder, which would depopulate this country in a few years, if it were not for its immigrants.

"I intend to talk plainly in public on this question of child murder, which demands much more delicacy of treatment than I usually give to subjects of my discourses. It involves an attack on all the ideals of a city where the accumulation of wealth is regarded as a praiseworthy accomplishment. It involves the candid expression of the opinion that the American woman has a weazened look. Surely this is a difficult thing to say, but it ought to be said, since it is true.

"The Rev. Henry Varley will deliver his last sermon to the Alliance to-morrow evening at the Central Avenue Synagogue on the memory of Abraham Lincoln. He will also deliver a sermon on "The Certainty of Salvation" (morning) and "The Public and Social Work" (evening) at the Central Avenue Synagogue on Sunday, October 17th.

"The Rev. Dr. Davidson preaches to-day at Temple Ahawath Chessed on "Knowledge and Spirituality." On Tuesday the Rev. Dr. Davidson will preach at the Hebrew Sheltering Guardian Society on "The Certainty of Salvation" (morning) and "The Public and Social Work" (evening) at the Central Avenue Synagogue on Sunday, October 17th.

THINK THEY HAVE FOUND THE HIDING PLACE OF CHRISTIAN, THE MURDERER. LEAFY BED IN THE WOODS. Man Thought to Be the Slayer of Pritchard and Many Skulking About.

Middleton, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Sheriff Watson, of Monticello, has struck a clue which, if properly followed, may result in the capture of Christian, the murderer of Horace Pritchard and Constable Manny at the Sullivan County Club grounds a fortnight ago. A man named Geiger, who lives near Ulster Heights, told the Sheriff that he had seen Christian skulking about in the woods near his place several times. He was armed with a shotgun and was especially anxious to keep out of view.

Sheriff Watson and Under Sheriff Avery at once went to the farm. After searching the woods, they came upon another farmer, who told them that he had seen a man jump from a clump of bushes a day or two ago, and he took them to the place. There they discovered a bed protected by boughs and made of limbs of dead trees covered with a layer of straw. It was just large enough for a man to rest in, and it had every appearance of having been used recently. In front of this improvised bed were the remains of a fire.

Sheriff Watson has posted a number of men about the vicinity. The residents of the neighborhood are going about thoroughly armed, and it would probably be much better for him to fall into the hands of the deputies.

Disciples of Christ Convenc. Indianapolis, Oct. 15.—The national convocations of the Christian churches (Disciples of Christ), began here last night and will continue until October 22. There are a series of three sessions, beginning first with the Christian Women's Board of Missions, October 14-16, followed by the Christian Men's Board of Missions, October 17-19, and the American Christian Missionary Society, October 20-22. The local committees on arrangements have already received applications for accommodation for nearly two thousand delegates, and the committees expect the largest number of delegates that ever met in the church's history.

The meetings this week will be held at Central Christian Church, and after Sunday morning the sessions will be held at the Indiana Hotel. Among the important subjects to be discussed by the delegates is that of consolidating the missionary interests of the church. Legal obstacles have heretofore prevented this action.

NEGRESS'S FIENDISH ACT. Because a White Woman Would Not Give Up Her Valuable She Held Her on a Red Hot Stove.

Mayfield, Ky., Oct. 15.—A negress, whose name is not known, entered the home of Mrs. Brents McKelvey, white, and demanded the latter's jewelry and money.

Mrs. McKelvey refused to give them up or to tell where they were kept. Thereupon the negress suddenly attacked her and succeeded in throwing her across a red-hot stove, and in holding her there until she had nearly fainted. The negress then made her escape, but a vigorous search is being made for her.
