

MANEUVERS OF THE UNION PACIFIC.

After the Syndicate Has Made $6,000,000 by Financing.

ALL INTERESTS AGREE. Huntington in the Deal with the Central Pacific and His Cash.

TWO PRESIDENTS PLEASSED. Cleveland Favored the Millionaires' Grab and McKinley Has Given His Assent.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—When the Union Pacific Railway is sold on November 1 under the order of the United States Circuit Judge Sanborn, it will pass into the possession of the Vanderbilts. At least this is the programme which has been arranged by J. Pierpont Morgan, Chauncey M. Depew and Marvin Haight, who are conducting this end of the deal. Collis P. Huntington is willing. So are President McKinley and his Cabinet, before whom the details of the plan have been laid. So are various United States Senators whose advice has been asked under pledge of secrecy on the ground that they can rightly gauge public opinion in the States they represent.

An interested co-operator in the purchase, it is understood, will be Collis P. Huntington, who holds a big bunch of bonds as collateral for loans, and naturally wants to see how he is to be taken care of. It is also intimated that the passing of the Union Pacific into new ownership will result in closer traffic relations with that branch of Huntington's Southern Pacific system which was once known as the Central Pacific. Besides all this Huntington has some money to invest, and this accounts for his interest in the syndicate.

This syndicate affair is a good thing for the men on the inside. If reports be true it insures them a snug little profit of $1,000,000 for the handling of the deal. However, the syndicate has no connection with the sinking fund transaction. It merely represents the commission which the syndicate men will exact for their efforts in financing the operation. The story, as told to a Chicago man who has the confidence of those interested, is as follows:

Two years ago the Vanderbilts began to consider the advisability of getting control of the Union Pacific as an outlet for their New York Central, Lake Shore and Northwestern systems. They decided it would be a valuable addition and bring an increase in business and revenues. President Cleveland, however, they did not persuade, and had never been engaged in any wrecking schemes. But President Cleveland went out of office before the deal was accomplished.

J. Pierpont Morgan is the man who handles all the big financial affairs in the Vanderbilts' camp, and Mr. Morgan has the reputation of being a sharp financier. He saw possibilities about $6,000,000 worth, in the transaction, and was shrewd enough to make sure of it by going along.

Careful Work in Advance. Carefully the Vanderbilt people acquired an interest in the Union Pacific and were in position, when the reorganization scheme was adopted, to put Chauncey Depew and Marvin Haight in control of the company. Then the question upon him were the stockholders in shape to pay the money required to relieve the road from the Government mortgage. The Vanderbilts were, of course, not to be asked to furnish all the money and let the rest of the security holders share equally in the benefits.

Mr. Morgan suggested he might be able to arrange a syndicate which would supply the necessary funds for a considerable time. The project was discussed at a Cabinet meeting, and several of the United States Senators from Western and Northwestern States were called into a conference on the subject. The consensus of opinion was that it would be a good thing to get the trouble some and costly question out of the way and put it in strong hands. It is for this reason those who know the inside of the matter have not been able to get along with the scheduled sale from the President.

"SCOLDED TO DEATH," IS THE VERDICT ON MAMIE LYNCH.

Mamie Lynch, Who Killed Herself Because She Was Scolded. Her 4-Year-Old Nephew Set Fire to the House and Her Brothers and Sisters Blamed Her and She Drank Poison--Bey Slept in Her Dead Arms.

Mamie Lynch, whose age was seventeen East Side years, killed herself yesterday because she was scolded by her brothers and sister. She swallowed that most brutal of all poisons--Paris green--and while the noxious stuff tore out her life, lay down with a child in her arms and folded sleep. With the agony of death upon her, she was able, by the exercise of a will that must have been superhuman, to still all signs of her suffering and to die, as animals do, dumb and deaf. They found her dead in the gray of the dawn, with the child's arms clasped about her neck and her lower lip bitten through.

They breed philosophers of a kind--on the East Side. They argued that since Mamie was dead, it was better to break up the child's sleep. So they let him rest in the dead girl's arms until six o'clock in the morning. Then they pulled a rug over the still, cold face and, going out, told a policeman Mamie had died, suddenly, of heart disease.

PRINCE KRAPOTKIN GRIMPAED ON HER

Russian Anarchist of Royal Blood is Here to Lecture.

SLIPPED BY OFFICIALS. He is Accompanied by a Beautiful Woman Who is Believed to Be His Rescuer.

MAY BECOME A CITIZEN. Comes to New York To-day, and Will Apply for Naturalization Papers to Prevent Deportation.

Boston, Oct. 19.—The well-known Anarchist, Prince Peter Krapotkin, is in Boston. He will leave for New York to-night, where he says he intends to lecture before the Fall classes. He is jubilant over the fact that he has been admitted to the United States at New York, and says that now that he is here he will at once apply for naturalization papers to save himself from deportation.

He is accompanied by a mysterious woman, whose identity cannot be established, but who is believed to have been largely instrumental in securing the Prince's release from prison.

She was with him in Boston last night. It is known that she is an Anarchist. She is a handsome woman, and gives every evidence of being a native of the United States. She is of medium height and of a figure that is of unusual symmetry. Her mouth is of the Lillian Russell type, and her hands are small and dainty.

She says she will probably lecture with Prince Krapotkin the coming winter. Further than this she does not talk. The Prince is one of the most peculiar characters, and reflects seriously on the New York Department of Justice. He has been in and out of prison several times, and is now in the United States on parole. He is a Russian, and is believed to be a member of the Russian Revolution. He is a very interesting character, and is believed to be a very capable man.

HAWAII WILL BE A STATE.

So Says Senator Morgan, Who Believes That Statehood Will Follow on the Heels of Admission.

San Francisco, Oct. 19.—Senator Morgan and his daughters returned from Honolulu to-day. In an interview the Senator said: "Hawaii is certainly going to be a State. But whether it will become one at the time of annexation or later is a question. Should the islands be admitted to statehood, and I believe they will, it is a question of time. I believe that the islands will be admitted to statehood in the near future. I believe that the islands will be admitted to statehood in the near future. I believe that the islands will be admitted to statehood in the near future."

O'BRIEN REPLIES TO MOSS.

Former Chief Resents Criticism of His Work in the Beresheim Case. Captain O'Brien, formerly of the Detective Bureau, whose methods of handling prisoners was severely criticized by President Moss, of the Police Board, during the trial of Jacob Beresheim in General Sessions, Monday, yesterday asked President Moss what he meant by his remarks. It was during recess in the trial that O'Brien said: "I am sorry to have to speak," O'Brien said to President Moss, "but I must talk to you. During my twenty-two years on the force, I have never been charged with anything, but never before charged as you charged me with making up a case against a prisoner. It was a brutal attack, and I don't think you showed much consideration."

Bicycle Lamp that Burns Gas.

Max Grimm, of Malone street, West Hoboken, has just patented a new bicycle lamp which burns gas. The gas is stored in the hollow of the handle bars and front fender. The lamp is a simple affair, and is believed to be a very valuable invention. It is a very simple affair, and is believed to be a very valuable invention.

Staggered on the Ice Dock.

Newark, N. J., Oct. 19.—An unknown man, apparently 35, dressed as a boatman, staggered along the Knickerbocker ice dock in Newark to-night, and fell into the Passaic River. He did not come to the surface. The body was recovered and sent to Mullin's morgue. In the crowded mass of bodies were found a card and a pocket watch. The card was addressed to "Thomas J. Mullin, 21 West Main Street, Middletown, N. J.," and an envelope marked "Dr. P. S. Chester, Chester, N. J."

Verger in Miller Dies in New Orleans.

GRIEVED ON HER

She Tried to Break Her Fall with It, but It Snapped and Pierced Her Temple; She Fell Back and Fractured Her Skull.

MISS LAURA MADDEN. Miss Laura Madden Impaled on the Steel Rod of Her Umbrella.

While stepping from the curb to a cross walk the young woman tripped. She attempted to support herself with her umbrella. The wooden handle broke, leaving the steel rod bare. This scraped across her brow and then penetrated the temple near her left eye. The accident caused her to turn in falling, so she struck the base of her skull. Believe doctors do not expect her to live.

A young woman lies in Bellevue Hospital, probably dying, the result of an accident unprecedented in the history of accidents. Her name is Miss Laura Madden, and her home is at No. 331 East Thirty-second street. While walking along a public thoroughfare Monday night she carried an umbrella which she carried broke apart off in her hand, the steel end protruded her temple; she fell, striking the back of her head; and now it is feared she will die either of the wound in the temple or of a fracture at the base of the skull.

LUETGERT JURY LOCKED UP.

Continued from First Page.

from the jury room and secured from the floor a slip of paper and a blank form of verdict. It was suggested, by way of explanation of this, that the jurors had decided on the verdict, and were waiting for the court to call them into the courtroom. The State's Attorney said that the jurors had decided on the verdict, and were waiting for the court to call them into the courtroom.

WHAT DO YOU WANT?

Advertisement for Pimple Faces and Oticura. Pimple Faces: Pimples, blotches, blackheads, red, rough, oily, mothy skin, itching, scaly skin, dry, thin and falling hair and baby blemishes presented by CUTICURA SOAP, the most effective skin purifying and beautifying soap in the world, as well as purest and sweetest for toilet, bath and nursery. Oticura: Over 500,000 readers of the great Sunday Journal play the music given away with each Sunday paper. It is always a popular song that has made a hit in New York, and is beautifully printed, so that it will be an ornament to your music stand. "Mary Jane Marie" is a do business without advertising. The only question now is to find the right advertising medium, and I am sure I have it. GREATER NEW YORK'S ADVERTISING NEWSLETTER. Advertise for It in the Journal.

JOB OF FARMERS

Society Leaders Sued by a Former Servant for $50,000 Damages.

KITCHEN MAID'S GRIEVANCE

The Diamond Robbery Caused Ella Stinguist to Be Imprisoned.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Townsend Burden and charming little Miss Evelyn Burden will be compelled to face a jury of twelve Queens County farmers next week, and the ordeal will not be a pleasant one for them, as besides the twelve farmers they will be obliged to reply to an angry housemaid, who claims that they persecuted her to the end that she was deprived of her liberty for a space of three months, thereby suffering greatly in body and mind.

The plaintiff in the action is Mrs. Daniel Junk, who was formerly Edia Stinguist, and she was very unfortunately mixed up with the famous Burden diamond robbery. She was imprisoned in the Tombs Prison three months, when the true facts of the robbery came to light, she was discharged. Before her arrest, however, she had married Daniel Junk, for fifteen years coachman to James L. Kernochan, and Mr. Kernochan interested himself in her behalf.

A City Business Man, who gets to work at nine in the morning, takes an hour for lunch and leaves for home at four or five in the afternoon. He understands the hardships of the life of the farmer, who starts to work giving elements of the food at the break of day and frequently works on into the night by lantern light.

A man to endure the hardships of a farmer's life, and if he would live a long life, always keep a watchful eye upon his health. He should remember that it is the apparently trifling disorders that eventually make the big diseases. It does not do for a hard working man to neglect bilious attacks or spells of indigestion. If he does, he will soon find himself flat on his back with malaria or crippled with rheumatism. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all medicines for hard working men and women. It makes the appetite keen and hearty, the digestion perfect, the liver active, the blood pure and rich with the life-giving elements of the food, and the nerves strong and steady. It builds firm muscles and solid flesh. It is the greatest of all blood-makers and purifiers. It cures malaria, troubles and rheumatism. It is an unfailing cure for biliousness and indigestion. An honest dealer will not try to substitute some inferior preparation for the sake of a little additional profit.

"I was a sufferer for four years with malarial fever and chills," writes Robert Williams of Iowa, Backus, Kan. "Four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured me, and I now weigh 160 pounds instead of 130, my old weight."

Costiveness, constipation and torpidity of the liver are surely speedily and permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They stimulate and strengthen the jaded organs until a regular habit is formed and may then be discontinued without a return of the trouble. They stimulate, invigorate and regulate the stomach, liver and bowels. Medicine stores sell them, and have no other pills that are "just as good."

Dear Sir: Why didn't you have the young man in the southeast corner of Hendop's Dealers' stores, as suggested in the present issue of the Journal? It would have been a vote for Luetgert, we can get arrange matters. Send the young man to me, I will be glad to see him. GEORGE ATHILL.

Judge Tutbill opens all mail sent to the jurors, and this way these letters fell into his hands. His Honor is inclined to regard the letters as a hoax, and the State's Attorney thinks the letters were gotten up by enterprising newspaper reporters. Inspect or Schenck and Assistant State's Attorney McEwen are suspicious. Both letters were written on fine linen paper, in good penmanship and enclosed in white linen envelopes.

Several of the jurors were so overcome with fatigue by noon to-day that they could scarcely keep their eyes open during the morning. They complained of the cramped condition of the little jury room. It was intimated to the court that if they could be allowed more ample quarters and a little rest after dinner they would feel more like discussing their verdict. Again, when this information was conveyed to them, Judge Tutbill pondered. He decided to do everything in his power to accommodate the jurymen, and ordered that boxes of cigars, two and then good naturedly ordered that the weeds be sent along with the dinner.

Several of the jurors were so overcome with fatigue by noon to-day that they could scarcely keep their eyes open during the morning. They complained of the cramped condition of the little jury room. It was intimated to the court that if they could be allowed more ample quarters and a little rest after dinner they would feel more like discussing their verdict. Again, when this information was conveyed to them, Judge Tutbill pondered. He decided to do everything in his power to accommodate the jurymen, and ordered that boxes of cigars, two and then good naturedly ordered that the weeds be sent along with the dinner.

It was also decided to permit the jurors to remove the clothing and get a few hours' sleep and rest, after which it was believed they would all be in a better condition and frame of mind to reach a conclusion. The long afternoon wore slowly away,