

SPAIN'S FINAL REPLY IN WOODFORD'S HANDS.

The American Minister Receives an Answer to the Note on Cuban Affairs Prepared by the Administration.

SPANISH SOLDIERS IN RIOTOUS REVOLT.

Troops in the Santander Barracks Refuse to Don the Colonial Uniform, and Declare They Will Not Sail for Cuba on November 5.

By Frank Marshall White. (Copyright, 1897, by W. R. Hearst.)

Madrid, Oct. 25.—The Spanish answer to General Woodford's note was delivered to the American Minister at a quarter to 1 o'clock to-day. Half an hour later General Woodford was at breakfast at the French Embassy with Senors Moret and Gullon, respectively the ministers for Colonies and Foreign Affairs.

Before going out to breakfast the American Minister read the answer to his communication of a month ago that has agitated the civilized world. The answer to Minister Woodford's note is, of course, in Spanish. It is being translated to-night at the rooms of the American Minister, and will probably be sent to Washington to-morrow.

The trouble among the troops at Santander has become a serious affair. The soldiers refused to dress themselves in the colonial army uniform and announced that they would not embark for Cuba. The authorities tried to calm them, not being willing to employ at once the harshness of the military law, which punishes with death such rioting. But the soldiers, thinking the authorities are afraid of them, say, in private conversations, that they will refuse to go on board the ship when the day comes, the fifth of November. Their barracks are now strongly guarded. As a matter of fact, they will at once be reduced to obedience if they attempt any resistance, but the Government strongly dislikes the idea of employing violence. It is said several Socialist agents have been at work among the soldiers.

OUR POSITION INDORSED.

A London Authority Declares That We Are on as Good Ground as Spain Diplomatically.

(Copyright, 1897, by W. R. Hearst.) London, Oct. 25.—The Pall Mall Gazette says to-night: "Marshal Blanco's 20,000 men look well on paper, but there are several to stop. 'Too late' is written large over the whole thing. 'We can only hope that the promise of autonomy may produce the effect desired. We cannot go to the length of believing it. As to Blanco's 20,000, it is more than likely that, while decently cloaking autonomy for home consumption, they unfortunately cloak it as effectually in the eyes of the Cubans. They will probably do, when many a good man has come before, Spain for a good long period after him, live and after death. That is the inevitable penalty of dry rot. Whatever the Spanish Premier may try to do now, he cannot get over the effects of the miserable inanity tempered by brutalities of the past. 'While placing the most generous construction upon Spain's attitude now, we must hold her responsible for her own difficulties. It is impossible to sympathize with her as it is to go violently against her present attitude. 'The first Spanish reply to General Woodford's note is dignified and proper. At this moment Spain has a right to complain of the filibusters, and to assert that it is her own business to look after the affairs of her own colony. 'But on the other hand General Woodford had every right to insist very strongly to Spain that a continuance of the present state of things is very trying to American tempers. 'It is in fact, the tone of the official work of both sides is thoroughly even and honorably correct. We may anticipate that President McKinley's message to Congress will not introduce a new one. Both sides have an exceedingly strong case or an exceedingly weak one, whichever way you choose to put it. But the logic of facts is irresistible. A balancing expedition or measures taken to check one, an irresponsible outbreak or a misunderstanding of an official message may at any time precipitate a crisis. 'And who would gain by war? The United States Government cannot desire to be saddled with a direct responsibility for Cuba, nor to let American troops, Spain cannot afford to lose Cuba, while a country with Creolism, Republicanism and Anarchism chronic at home may well fear what might happen next. There seems to be nothing for it but for Spain to struggle desperately along, trusting vaguely to the chapter of accidents to avert a war which might crumple her up, and in which she would have no ally. 'It is a poor prospect, but unhappily no other kind of a prospect is conceivable. 'The Sun to-night says: 'The trouble between Spain and the United States has not been smoothed over by the accession of Sagasta to office. It is true the recall of General Weyler is welcomed by America, but the appointment of General Blanco in his stead is not a wise move. Blanco is described as vain, weak, cruel and bloodthirsty, a typical Spaniard. 'Some will say Sagasta's reply to the American dispatch is not too conciliatory. It draws attention to the ease with which filibustering expeditions set out from America ports to Cuba, and hints that Spain may have to examine all suspicious looking ships. 'The time seems near when the States will have to recognize the Cubans as belligerents, and the consequences of such a step will be serious, mostly for Spain.'"

CASTILLO FOLLOWS MACEO

The Insurgent Brigadier Killed by the Spanish Forces and His Body Brought to Havana.

By George Clark Musgrave. (Copyright, 1897, by W. R. Hearst.)

Havana, Oct. 25.—An official dispatch from Managua states that General Castillo, brigadier in command of the insurgent forces in Havana Province, was killed this morning by the Spanish forces, under command of Colonel Ruano. The body of the insurgent leader is being brought to Havana as a visible proof of the Cuban loss.

REVOLT AGAINST SPAIN.

Rumors of Another Uprising in Porto Rico Against Spanish Corruption and Militarism.

Jose Davilla, the wealthy Porto Rican merchant who has been in this city for some months, has returned to his native country. His unexpected departure has given rise to the rumors concerning the uprising of the Porto Ricans against Spanish rule. The fact that Senor Davilla left simultaneously with the sailing of the filibuster Silver Hoops gave rise to the report yesterday that the schooner's destination is Porto Rico and not Cuba.

TROUBLE FOR BLANCO.

Cuban Autonomists Creating Difficulties, Spanish Soldiers Idle and Cuba's Finances in Frightful Shape.

Madrid, Oct. 25.—A dispatch received here from Havana has caused considerable stir in political circles. It declares that the opponents of autonomy are seeking to create difficulties for Marshal Blanco, who succeeds General Weyler, as Captain-General of Cuba, adding that the situation in that island is the same as it was six months ago.

IN PEACE, READY FOR WAR

The Navy and Army Have Considered the Cuban Problem and Are Prepared to Meet It.

Washington, Oct. 25.—While the attitude of Spain on the Cuban question is menacing, the friendly relations of the two Governments to a serious degree, it is improbable that a crisis will occur immediately. The Administration will consider Spain's note seriously and deliberately before drafting an answer, and as yet no note, or even a called synopsis of it, has been received officially. Assistant Secretary of State Day, in whose hands all Cuban affairs rest exclusively, is in Ohio and will remain there for more than a week. Secretary Sherman and President McKinley will go to Ohio this week, and they do not wish to leave the affairs of State in an
