The Wanamaker Store Advertising that Must Be Read as News

PERHAPS a million or more people of this vicinage have not yet made the acquaintance of our store. Possibly some hundreds of thousands of our visitors of the past year have not come to know us in any thorough manner.

Our difficulty is to get this store comprehended. When that condition is reached the printer will get less of our money. The pre-holiday period is the time in which we expect present friends to know our store better, and such as do not know the store at all, to introduce themselves.

There is a charm about the store. We hear it on all sides. A musical critic remarks that the orchestrations play with the precision and expression of a trained orchestra. An art critic wonders why the cultivated people of New York do not crowd our picture gallery. A practical business man exclaims with surprise over the elegance and cheapness of our Furniture. The Bric-a-brac room is an unending recreation. The Book Store holds an audience of all sorts—professional men, literary critics, readers of every class. And yet people will persist in calling this a "Department Store."

Department Stores do not publish high-class literary periodicals. We have for years published BOOK NEWS. Each of our whole array of stores is complete in itself. Just examine the Candy Store—can you match it? A small interest, you say. But judge this business by any of its many interests—great or small—the result is just the same.

OUR Carpet Store has found the only vacancy in the local trade—at the top. The company up there is small and select but we are gracefully received and enjoy the place.

Our broad carpet floor is crowded with choice Oriental rugs and high-grade carpets, but it is never too full to admit brotherly bargains. Witness the following:

A bunch of 37 pieces Antique Oriental Hall Rugs is to go at less than cost. They average 9 feet long by 3 ft. 6 in. wide. Prices $15 to $25. Their successors will cost us more than we charge you for these.

Good choosing in Carabagh and Daghestan Rugs at $4.50 and $5.75. Smyrna Rugs: It will give you a headache to examine the long lines of them.

Wilton Rugs: Distinguished styles, distinguished prices. 18 by 36 in., $1.50; 27 by 54 in., $2.90; 36 by 60 in., $4.85.

Still in stock, 50 patterns first quality Moquettes, 75c. a yard. We "point with pride" to our Carpet Store.

Cashmere A PRETTY wrapper is a favorite gift, and a sensible one; and a pretty cashmere is a favorite wrapper, for good reasons—the wide range of colors enables you to suit any complexion; and as to style, you can have it as simple or as elaborate as you like.

At $5.75—Fine Cashmere, black, navy or garnet, made full front, Watteau plait back, with three rows of braid, making a bolero effect.

$6.25—Cardinal or navy cashmere, full front, with three rows of insertion across bust, Watteau back.

$7.50—Old rose, cardinal or navy cashmere, tight back, full front, with insertion in points across front and back.

$8.75—Handsome wrapper of navy, garnet or purple cashmere, Watteau back, full front, with two rows of wide black insertion; high collar, with plaited frill.

$9—Extra fine cashmere, in cadet blue, green or cardinal, Watteau back, yoke front, with fine plaits and deep pointed ruffe, trimmed with narrow velvet ribbon and lace.

$12—Fine cardinal, navy or purple cashmere, fitted back, full front, with yoke of fine plaits, trimmed with knitted-plaited ribbon.

$14.50—Very fine cashmere, gray, cardinal, navy or purple, with yoke back, Watteau plait, and full front, fastening down the side, with trimming of wide insertion.

$16.50—Cardinal, gray, or heliotrope cashmere, yoke back, Watteau plait, fastening at side, handsomely trimmed with lace; four rows of insertion running bias across the front.

Second floor. A True Story of the Great French. LOTS of cheap talk in stores and Dress-making Parlors is decorated with the names of leading Paris dressmakers glibly reeled off in French-American patois. Although not devoid of unconscious humor, it is yet a tribute to the great French that their names are thus taken in vain.

We collect from them all the choicest pieces—not merely models to copy, but rich, original costumes, which we retain uncopied. Thus, Wanamaker's is Paris. Many have been sold from our autumn collection, some are just here, and we have a great story to tell concerning those that remain. It is in two parts. You must read both.

Part First. Saturday, PAQUIN. Three symphonic visions. First. Grey chenille embroidery, blue chiffon, white satin, gray taffeta. Upper part of waist and lower part of skirt are ruffled. Skirt is double, with the outer skirt opening in front. Delicacy of tone and color, exquisite freshness in design. Hints only—not descriptions. Price $500.

Second. Paquin is bold—an impressionist. Materials: Castor cloth, mink fur, satin, lace. The cloth color is light tan, satin to match with certain mirror satin at throat. Exquisite carriage costume. Price $400.

Third. A "Sortie de Bal." Uncut velvet in flush-silk pink, the entire costume edged with sable fur. Bertha waist, Mary Stuart collar. A magnificent Opera or Ball wrap. $500.

HENRIETTA FAVRE. Three duplicates of costumes just made for the Princess of Wales. Favre's first appearance in America. First. Evening gown. Black net over white silk, exquisitely trimmed with steel embroidery in floral design. Price $400.

Second. Reception gown. Pale blue crepe-de-chine over blue-grey silk, trimmed with real lace inserting. Original, exquisite. Price $450.

THE lots of Japanese wash silks opened last week at Forty-five Cents are commanding much attention, and are selling freely. Checks, plaids, stripes in new color combinations. Will they interest you?

Another advance guard of spring appears in the new twilled Foulard silks. They take the name of the prize winner at the Grand Prix—the Doge, and thus will they be known throughout the season. They are the best in finish and color of any silks of their class, and have the charm of latest novelty. Twenty patterns—all black, or blue with white.

Dress Goods—DECEMBER the great month for A Great Occasion. Dress Goods selling. The weather snaps out "new dresses."

Practical Holiday thinking whispers "give Dress Goods." All things conspire to awaken the Dress Goods demand.

Propos to this, remember that Dress Goods are the backbone of our Dry Goods business. Therefore we never take second place in the stocks of Dress Goods we offer—we meet the comparisons of the world.

The emphasis of to-day's Dress Goods news comes in the substantial reductions of prices upon elegant imported novelties—the newest goods of the season.

Look down the list: Mohair Matelasse Novelty, in six attractive combinations. At 50c., reduced from 85c.

The arrangement of Dress Goods in gift forms is a specialty to which we have given very careful attention for years. Broadway and Ninth street.

Men's Furnishings. THE ebb and flow of the great trade in men's furnishings bring new things and close out new things daily. Here are some choice goods opened up this morning.

Men's Night Shirts in a beautiful new weave; a fine soft cord with needle-work trimming, 82. Some old-fashioned genuine bandanna handkerchiefs, from London. $1.25, $1.75 and $2.

Imported Bath Wraps, in entirely new Wanamaker ideas; in raised stripe and plaids; in pinks, greens, blues, white, yellow, and combination colorings. 85. JOHN WANAMAKER Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co., Broadway, 4th ave., 9th and 10th sts.

China and Cut Glass Ware. THERE is a steady and strong demand for Haviland Dinner Set and fine Austrian plates and Bric-a-brac announced on Friday evening last.

All the lines are still in stock. Amplitude joins cheapness here, cheapness gets no notice in the store news.

People are wondering, and so are we, how the Austrians can equal French on so many rich, rare and beautiful pottery goods, and discount the French prices fifty per cent. But they do.

Neither European country can match America in cut glass. A first-class stock of glass table ware proves that, especially our own.

The novel cuttings are all here: Plaza, Crescent, Estelle, Prism, Ros Bows, $3.75 to $50. Nappies, $4 to $25. Claret Jugs, $5 to $15. Carafes, $4.75 to $10. Vases, $2 to $15. Olive Dishes—handled—$2.25 to $3.75. Olive Dishes—unhandled—$1.75 to $5. Tumblers, $2.75 to $30 a dozen.

In each line there are special items at very low prices. Basement.

Handkerchiefs. INSURANCE against disappointment—that's really what you have in buying handkerchiefs in a store where n thread or cotton can enter.

Cases of fresh goods are coming every day now, direct from Ireland from France, from Switzerland—and some from Japan, by way of Switzerland. Nothing can surpass the exquisite beauty of the Swiss embroidered handkerchiefs of Japanese silk in all white and delicate shades of colored silk embroidery.

Boxes, boxes, boxes—all sorts pretty fancies in boxed handkerchiefs for men, for women, for children. Some of the boxes have Christmas cards already attached in dainty fashion. All handkerchiefs bought in gifts will be put in neat boxes without charge if desired.

Don't judge of qualities by prices—handkerchiefs at Wanamaker's are apt to be finer than others at the same price. Take men's hemstitched that we sell at $1.75 a dozen—the usual 22-cent handkerchiefs—and we can't get them in fact.

A special counter for real Duches and point lace handkerchiefs is in the centre aisle, Broadway.

Here are three special lots of handkerchiefs for to-day. 100 dozen men's hemstitched handkerchiefs, one-half and one inch hems, at $1 a dozen.

A lot of 25c and 35c embroidered and hemstitched handkerchiefs, with 1 edges, 15c. each. Women's hemstitched and embroidered handkerchiefs, fine sheer cloth, usual 50c. and 75c. grades, each.

Main, second and fifth floors. A Great Book Bargain. RIDPATH'S great History of the World and History of the Races is a work that has no competitors, and no substitute. For this reason people gladly pay $4 for the eight massive volumes, with their wealth of illustrations; it is worth the money.

But selling books by subscription as this History has been sold, is a wasteful way. There is much to pay for beside the book. The Wanamaker way of selling books, especially costly works of reference, is to bring them direct from publisher to reader. The plan has been remarkably successful with the Standard American Encyclopedia and other great reference books; and in case of the Ridpath History, it is our club-members.

A $48 Book for $23. The entire set of eight volumes binding, is delivered upon payment membership fee—One Dollar, agree to make fifteen monthly payments—first payment thirty days after—for the cloth-bound, $1.50 a month, and attractive—$2 a month, for sumpt. full morocco, $2.50 a month. Members may resign within ten days, and their payments will be returned. Specimen pages, illustrations, testimonial mailed free. The Book Store, Ninth Street.

Fine French Petticoats. EIGHTY-THREE silk petticoats, the most beautiful work of Paris dressmakers, are to be closed out at just three-fourths of last week's prices. They are in light and dark silks, a few in black; all elaborately trimmed with ruffles, flouncings, lace and chiffon—only one of a kind. Here are a few of the prices:—

$18, now $13.50 $52.50, now $39.50 $25, now $18.75 $65, now $48.50 $33, now $24.75 $75, now $56.25 $40, now $30 $90, now $67.50
